

Today's Missing Headlines

To start with I want to thank everyone who just donated, and who is about to donate. I know it isn't over, since we are only a week in. But the response was so fast and so generous I wanted to get an early thank you in here. It was the biggest three-day response I have ever seen, proving my site continues to grow, even in this market contraction. If you are still unsure how to send me something, anything, just use the kitties on my site which link you to paypal, or send me a check directly. I actually prefer that. Box 335 Garden Valley CA 95633. I also gratefully accept silver coins, coffee, or anything else of value. I don't drink or smoke, so don't send cigs or alcohol. I also don't do bitcoin or anything like it.

It used to be “all the news that's fit to print”, but now all the news fit to print is hidden, replaced by manufactured Intelligence vaudeville. But things continue to happen . . . just beyond the sight of most people who rely on the mainstream.

Two weeks ago the big hidden news was that Congress had defunded Peter Daszak and EcoHealthAlliance, kicking Daszak out of public funding permanently as a fraudster. Some alternative outlets reported that, but the mainstream mainly buried it. It should have been front page in huge headlines but it wasn't.

We are seeing the same thing today with the 9th Circuit Court of Appeals ruling the Covid vaccines are not vaccines. Looks like Pfizer forgot to pay off these judges. In arguments the CDC admitted the vaccines were not vaccines, conferring no immunity and only (allegedly) mitigating symptoms. That is a treatment, not a vaccine. This confirms what some of us have been screaming for years, to no avail. It was obvious to anyone with even a rudimentary knowledge of medicine or history that these were not vaccines, which is why I called them fake vaccines or faux-vaccines. They were called vaccines only to finagle legal immunity for the drug companies and qualify them for government pushing. That and to capture public trust.

This is being reported by alternative sites like Zerohedge and Infowars, so as usual I did a general search, to see how widely it was being reported in the mainstream. As I expected, it has been buried. Most big mainstream news agencies are not just burying it, they are not reporting it at all. Bing returned zero results in a general search for this from mainstream news agencies. Other mysterious new sites are being toplisted, claiming that isn't what the judgment says. In other words, the CIA and Alphabet are burying it by their own sneaky methods, by downlisting it, censoring it, or lying about it. Pfizer didn't need to buy these judges because they already own the media. In that way they can just fail to report it or assure you the judges didn't say what they said.

And in other news, Alex Jones is claiming he will now sell Infowars and use the proceeds to pay Sandy Hook parents for . . . whatever it was he was faux-convicted of in that dummy court. You do realize this makes no sense, right? In a real judgment, Jones would not have been allowed to just blow this off for a year or more. After the judgment, assets would be seized immediately, not whenever it was convenient to Jones. Nor would they wait around for Jones to sell. They would seize the asset and sell it themselves. Either way, without Jones, Infowars is pretty much worthless. Jones IS Infowars. It would be like The Joy of Painting without Bob Ross. A worthless asset.

Jones has already admitted he was nearing retirement anyway, so this story was just manufactured around that. I don't know what will happen with Infowars: I guess Shroyer and those guys will try to keep it going. But I am sure the Sandy Hook parents won't get a penny, since there are no Sandy Hook parents. The whole thing exists on the level of Peter Pan or Winnie the Pooh. I am just surprised Jones hasn't set up a GoFundMe page, claiming donations of 1.7 trillion, or whatever the final joke number was. That way he could just pretend to pay the judgment and go on as before. He wouldn't have to retire. I probably shouldn't have suggested that, because—knowing Langley—they may do it. If they can make up the upside, they can make up the downside, as we are seeing with the Trump trial.

Which brings us to that. Judge Merchan has now called into question the result, publicizing jury misconduct and possibly leading to a mistrial. This is so silly in and of itself it proves again the whole thing was vaudeville. You wouldn't expect the judge to blow the trial himself, would you? He is ultimately responsible for jury integrity, so it is like him admitting malfeasance right after the outcome. Absurd and unprecedented in the annals of law.

In a rational universe, the judge would never publicize some now-deleted Facebook post, alleging the outcome was predetermined and pointing to a corrupt juror. He would ignore it and hope it stayed deleted and unreported. He had no legal responsibility to publicize the claim, to share it with the Trump team, or to mention it at all. After the trial is finished, the judge is not responsible for policing his own actions. He is not responsible for his own oversight. Which is just to say, if there IS potential jury misconduct here, you would not expect to hear it first, or second, from the judge himself. Which makes it just one more item in a ludicrously bad script.

Also, we see the mainstream IS reporting this on front pages, once again indicating it is fake.

And in other news, AOC lookalike hostage Noa Argamani was allegedly freed by Israeli troops this week.

There she is with one of her captors. No, just kidding, that is from some memoryholed article from a few months ago you can no longer access. Maybe it is her with her agent. Here she is upon release:

No wait, that isn't right, either. Here she is upon release:

Nope, scratch that, that may her audition for the Israel Follies. Here she is upon release:

No, my mistake, that may be from her OnlyFans page. Here she is upon release:

Really. So that is what eight months of starving, rape, torture, and being forced by Hamas to cook Jewish babies on Hibachi grills does to a person? But I guess she gained weight because she didn't have access to her personal trainers. Plus, this same Noa person allegedly just released a statement a week or so ago blaming Netanyahu, but she seems to have forgotten all that.* We are told one of the first things she did is visit her mother dying of cancer in the hospital:

But wait, you will pardon me for questioning this, but that just looks like some fat lady screwing up her face. We don't have a match on the hair color or the teeth. So let's look closer:

Houston, we have a problem. Not only no match on the teeth or the hair, but no match on the moles/freckles on the face, the lines between her eyes, or the width of the nose. She gained fifty pounds from cancer but her nostrils got narrower? How does that work?

And on the off-chance I am wrong and that really is her mother and she really is dying, that doesn't make the rest of this real. I tried to dig up more on the mother and father, since this Liora Argamani (actually Li Chunhong) is supposed to be Chinese but looks only half-Asian. I guess Chunhong is Chinese for Cohen-Hahn.

As for Yaakov Argamani, he may be (or may be related to) Yaakov Argaman, previously of Israeli Defense Forces, and now a senior systems engineer at Israel Aerospace Industries. Exactly what we would expect here. Argaman is also an Israeli moshav (settlement) in the West Bank. It was created on land illegally confiscated from three Palestinian villages. Also of high interest is that the head of Israeli Security/Intelligence, Shin Bet, is Nadav Argaman. Just another wild coincidence, I'm sure.

As I keep telling you, the whole thing is staged, including the response from Hamas and Palestine. Hamas is claiming Israeli forces killed 210 people including civilians to free these four people, but that is all theater, too, since no one was killed. THERE ARE NO HOSTAGES, so any claim to free them must also be staged. Do you see how that works? All the hostages are actresses like this Noa babe. It's just another vast Jewish theater project, like summer stock in the Berkshires, but this time with rubber dummies in pickups.

Why? The usual reasons: it keeps military expenditures astronomically high, with Congress sending billions of your taxdollars to Israel as well as sending our own aircraft carriers over there to fight a few guys on mopeds. It also keeps tensions high here and your mind off other things, like the vaccine genocide. These people have to keep your eyes off their cousins who just murdered millions of your parents and children with fake vaccines, you know.

Update next day: As it turns out, Argamani and the three male hostages were allegedly held by an Al-Jazeera journalist, who was killed during the rescue with his family. Because that makes sense, right? Which means. . . journalists weren't just "embedded" with Hamas during the fake Peace Party attack, as was previously reported, those journalists were the terrorists. The only way this could be any more stupid and transparent is if these terrorists were found to be Hollywood actors or CIA agents. Which we find they pretty much were. Al-Jazeera is a CIA front, like Radio Free Europe or something. It is just our controlled opposition in the area, along with Hamas, ISIS, PLO, Hezbollah, and all these other fake organizations.

Further update, June 10: This journalist Al Jamel also worked for The Palestine Chronicle, which is based in the US, Washington state. Pretty much proving I am right is the fact that the website of the Palestine Chronicle was scrubbed just before I got there, removing the board of directors, list of officers, and advisory board. But I was able to find them nonetheless [here, where we learn Ramzy Baroud is the president and "Buddhist priest" John Harvey is the treasurer. Harvey is also connected to the Rachel Corrie Foundation, again pointing to CIA, since this foundation is likely another Jewish front based on a faked event. The pretty blonde Jewish Corrie was allegedly run over by an Israeli bulldozer while non-violently protesting in Gaza. At least she wasn't cooked and eaten, I guess. Strangely, a people search on this Rachel Corrie at Instantcheckmate takes us to the usual scrubbed entry, with no age and no possible relatives, though her relatives are listed all over the web as Craig and Cindy. Why don't the big computers know anything about this person? Even stranger, if we then search on Craig Corrie, 77, also of Olympia, we find him, but with no Rachel on his list. We find Chris, Cynthia, and Jasleen Corrie, and Sarah and Kelly Simpson, but no Rachel Corrie.

The screenshot shows the InstantCheckmate website interface. At the top, it says "Incredible! 1 Match Found - Select Your Result Now" with a green downward arrow. Below this is a button that says "Not the right person? Modify Search". The main content area has a header with columns for "NAME", "AGE", "LOCATION", and "POSSIBLE RELATIVES". The first result is for "Craig R. Corrie", age 77, located in Olympia, WA and Charlotte, NC. To the right of his name, a list of possible relatives is shown: Christopher Corrie, Cynthia Corrie, Sarah Simpson, Jasleen Corrie, and Kelly Simpson. A yellow warning box below the name states: "Possible Criminal or Traffic Records associated with the name Craig Corrie found!". At the bottom, it says "Verified name match: Craig Corrie".

Spooky, huhh?

is a US-Palestinian journalist, media consultant, author, internationally-syndicated columnist, Editor of Palestine Chronicle (1999-present), former Managing Editor of London-based Middle East Eye, former Editor-in-Chief of The Brunei Times and former Deputy Managing Editor of Al Jazeera online. Baroud taught mass communication at Australia's Curtin University of Technology, Malaysia Campus. Baroud also served as head of Aljazeera.net English's Research and Studies department. Baroud has a Ph.D. in Palestine Studies from the University of Exeter (2015). He was a Non-Resident Scholar at Orfalea Center for Global and International Studies, University of California Santa Barbara (2016-17). Currently he is a Non-resident Senior Research Fellow at the Center for Islam and Global Affairs (CIGA), Istanbul Zaim University (IZU).

So, as it turns out, The Palestine Chronicle is not some low-budget, fly-by-night rag. Through his editor Baroud we can link Al Jamel to the big-time in Palestine-as-a-controlled-op. In other words, these people prop up Palestine and the rest of the Arab nations as controlled enemy of Israel, to keep the area permanently hot, as a dumping ground for Western military engagement and equipment. What would the military/industrial complex be without fake wars to pretend to fight? Best guess is Craig Corrie is retired military or military contractor, like Raytheon or Rand or L3. We know he worked in Charlotte, and Raytheon is big there.

And guess what? They actually filmed Corrie getting run over by a bulldozer. Because that makes sense, right? If you are a Jewish guy driving a bulldozer, probably the best time to run over and kill a pretty Jewish girl in an orange vest on purpose is while it is being filmed, eh?

You will say that was from a previous day. No, that is dated March 16 and she was allegedly killed March 16. It is not a reenactment. Do we see her actually crushed? No, that is all we see, but that is enough for me to know it is fake. Do you understand how slowly the bulldozer would be going there and how easy it would be to avoid being crushed? You would have to have a death wish, actually diving under the machine on purpose. That picture is obviously staged.

You may ask what happened to the bulldozer driver. Nothing. He wasn't even tried by any court, Israeli or Palestinian, which is beyond belief. Wiki says her parents sued in civil court, but doesn't bother to report the outcome. It is implied it was dismissed as a casualty of war, which again makes no sense. It is obvious to anyone awake that had this been real, the driver would have known she was there, since he was surrounded by other protestors and cameramen. No real judge would accept the excuse that he didn't see her or that it was an unfortunate accident. The worst outcome would be 1st degree murder and the best would be gross criminal negligence. But even that would be a win for the Corrie family, who should have been paid millions. They weren't. Simply from the runaround we get on the Wiki page, we can tell this is all the usual bad fiction, dreamed up at Langley or somewhere.

Proving this was all manufactured for effect, Yasser Arafat named a street after her in the West Bank.

So, just to summarize, they named a street after her, but the big computer in the US doesn't know she is related to her own parents.

Late-breaking addition. I checked her page at Findagrave. We are supposed to believe her middle name is. . . are you ready. . . Aliene. She has no burial site, since she was allegedly cremated, with ashes given to family. Convenient. The bio there confirms my guess: the judge ruled her death was her own fault. But here's a further question for you: Findagrave tells us the parents filed their lawsuit in Haifa, which is in Israel. Shouldn't they have filed it in Palestine, if they hoped to win? Was Israel likely to find against itself? You will say Palestine couldn't compel payment, but at least at that point they would have had a judgment in their favor, one they could have taken to various world courts. The last thing they should have wanted is a court finding against them. Also suspicious is that Craig Corrie was later quoted making excuses for the bulldozer driver, saying it was hard to see out of double glass, etc. Really?!!]

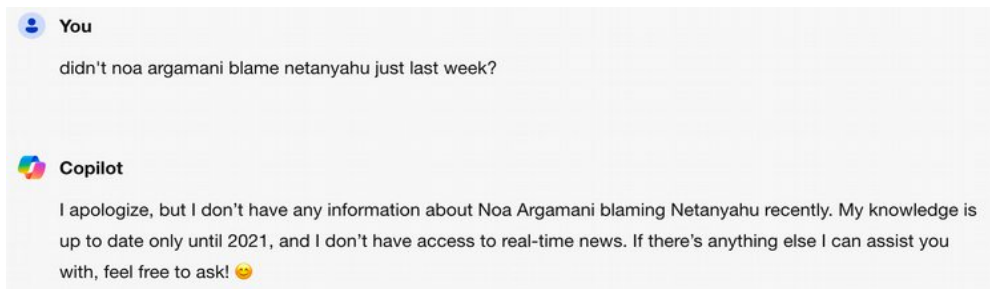

Al-Jazeera comes out of Doha, Qatar, which is a US/UK puppet state. All the countries in the Middle East are US puppets, but this is especially obvious with Qatar, which was a British Protectorate from 1916 to 1971, when it was granted a (fake) independence. Sort of like Cuba, which pretends to be independent while having a huge US military base covering a third of the island. Qatar is run by the Al Thanis, more cloaked Jews pretending to be Arabs. The current Sheik is married to a Nasser, and I have hit the Nassers many times before.

Here she is, Moza bint Nasser:

Looks kinda familiar, don't she? She would fit right in in Hollywood and Beverly Hills. And where do you think the name Moza comes from? Moses. They are hiding in plain sight.

*I asked Bing's AI Copilot about this, but Copilot claimed it had no information after 2021.

So yeah, AI is really going to take over the world.

*June 11: Jones doesn't seem to have learned his lesson about defamation after all this, since today he called out George Clooney as CIA and an Epstein-like character". So, although Jones was told by the judge the First Amendment doesn't exist in her court, he seems to think it does still exist. Which it does. Legally, you are allowed to speculate about almost anything concerning public figures, as long as you couch it in the right language. Which is precisely why public figures can say such wild things about one another. That, and all their statements are scripted for maximum chaos and confusion. But my point is, Jones' actions during and after the trials prove the trials are fake, since no one actually on the hook for billions of dollars would keep shooting his mouth off. Jones says he can read Clooney just by looking at him, and we can do the same with Jones. Jones is right about Clooney being an agent—almost everyone in Hollywood is an agent, since Hollywood has always been a subsidiary of the CIA. But the same goes for Jones, because if the stories we are told about Jones were true, he would be showing the stress. He and Shroyer would be showing the stress of these events. They aren't. Jones seems to be dealing with his bankruptcy and targeting by the Gestapo pretty well, always flush from his afternoon nap in the sun and his stuffing with chicken burritos.
