911 TRUTH and OBAMA'S BIRTH

So far I have mainly kept topics like this separate of my other writings. But now that both have gone mainstream, there is little reason for doing so. I think pretty much everyone knows that 911 was an inside job, so why keep quiet about it or talk about it only in whispers? In my personal experience, I find that everyone is talking about it, either at home under the covers, or in coffeeshops at full volume. Of course I am one of the latter, but I never get anyone disagreeing with me. People lean over and join the conversation, but it is always to say, “I know, I know.” This includes old ladies, teens, Democrats, Republicans, Independents, Greens, and Tea-partiers. The only ones who don't know, or pretend not to know, are online trolls working for the government, the mainstream media (which is really the same as the first category), and a few little folks under five years old.

But what do we really know? A reader wrote to me and asked this question, adding, “You are so good at cutting to the chase, without a lot of rigamarole. Why don't you write a short piece hitting the high points of what you have learned in the past decade?” So that is what I am going to do.

As some may know, I have had nothing but free time since about 2002, and this has allowed me to follow my nose on any topic that interested me. I am a good researcher, and I like to read both sides of the issues. So not only have I read almost everything available on 911, I have read almost everything available debunking these “conspiracy theories.” For the first year or so, I was able to keep an open mind. But in that year I read so many debunking pieces, I could see that the debunkers were just lying. As the mountain of things I had read got bigger, so did my belief that the debunkers were not telling the truth. The arguments for conspiracy were good, and the answers from debunkers were not good. The “truthers” did seem to be searching for the truth, if not always finding it; but the debunkers were not honestly trying to debunk. They weren't debunking, they were spinning. They were avoiding the real issues, pushing the reader into tangential topics, attacking people personally, and generally falling back on debating tricks. In addition, they were getting caught in many contradictions. They would say one thing one day and another thing the next.

In a nutshell, the debunkers got beat. They lost. More than that, they got trounced, on every issue.

Any honest person keeping score must admit that. They failed to answer any substantive questions, got caught lying and spinning over and over, and basically made themselves look very bad. We should make a list, so that we know who these people are, for future reference. Unfortunately, that list would make this paper very long, since it includes just about everyone in mainstream media, and that includes both left and right. I will only mention a few names here, since I consider these names somewhat surprising: Bill Moyers, Dan Rather, Noam Chomsky, Howard Zinn, Jon Stewart, Stephen Colbert, Penn and Teller, Amy Goodman, Christopher Hitchens, Jim Hightower, Ralph Nader, Keith Olbermann, Alexander Cockburn, and many more. With some of these people, we only got hedging, but we wouldn't expect hedging or spinning or giving cover from any of these people. They were considered to be straight shooters, people who could read well and see through a brick wall. But they weren't brave enough to lead us on this one.

I don't mean to single these people out as the worst. They weren't the worst, they were just surprising. It was surprising that they didn't speak out against all the Bill O'Reillys, Glenn Becks, Chip Berlets, James Meigs, and others obviously in the pay of the government. Instead, they dodged, because they didn't want this to be their issue. It was too hot. Well, it isn't too hot anymore, and now they probably wish to come over to our side. Of course they can, but their claims to leadership status have all taken a hit.

Some will be saying, "Miles, we wanted a rundown of the facts, not this keeping score of personnel!" Actually, this is one of the most important facts. The world is run by people, and the decisions of people, and what we learn about people is extremely important. I will get to the planes and the buildings in a moment, but people are more important than planes and buildings.

As these people above have fallen, or will fall, other people rose to the occasion. These people include David Ray Griffin, Cynthia McKinney, Alex Jones, Kevin Barrett, Richard Gage, Webster Tarpley, Steven Jones, A.K. Dewdney, Robert Bowman, Charlie Sheen, Jesse Ventura, Sibel Edmonds, Barrie Zwicker, William Rodriguez, Dylan Avery, Thierry Meyssan, Jim Marrs, and thousands of others who spoke out early and strongly.

I also have to include a short list of magazines and websites to avoid, since they led the fake debunking efforts: Popular Mechanics, Scientific American, American Thinker, Counterpunch, Snopes, The Progressive, Rolling Stone, Wikipedia, Google, Yahoo, MSN, UrbanLegends, About.com, FOX, CBS, NBC, MSNBC, ABC, BBC, NPR, TIME, Newsweek, Washington Post, New York Times, Democrats.org, GOP.com. Basically, all the media have been shamed and indicted on this one, since they were either actively telling lies, or shielding. You should consider completely overhauling your personal news gathering, by discontinuing all your previous newspapers, magazines, and other subscriptions, and starting over. For news, you can go to Infowars, Prisonplanet, Opednews, GlobalResearch, Bradblog, GeorgeWashington'sblog, John Pilger, AmericanFreePress, Webster Tarpley, Max Keiser, and so on.

Now let's look at what we know. We know a plane didn't crash at the Pentagon. We know someone ordered a military stand down, so that nothing was done on 911 to stop whatever it is that happened. We know a plane didn't crash at Shanksville. We know the buildings in New York didn't come down due to planes or fires. We saw with our own eyes that they exploded.

One question: does this look like a gravitational collapse to you?

We know that WTC7 was pulled in a demolition. We know that the residue of exotic explosives was found in the dust. We know that WTC7 contained SEC documents, CIA offices, the mayor's (Guiliani) emergency offices, IRS offices, Secret Service offices, Salomon Smith Barney's main offices and documents, NAIC offices and documents (insurance regulators), and bank vaults that included the largest cache of Kennedy photos in existence. We know that Larry Silverstein, who owned the leases on the buildings, OK'ed the pulling of WTC7, since he told us this himself, on TV. We know that cellphone calls from the planes were faked. We know that video of the planes going into the towers was faked. We know that many people, including newspeople, were paid to tell false stories. We know that video from the Pentagon was suppressed. We know that the 19 hijackers were either made up or were under the protection of the US government. We know that there is no evidence they were on the planes, and that there is much evidence that many of them were not on the planes. We know that top officials, including Bush, Cheney, Rumsfeld, and Rice, have been caught lying about 911. We know that the 911 Commission suppressed evidence, and that they did it on orders from the administration. We know that the Pentagon perjured itself repeatedly, lying in front of Congress. We know that Bush and Cheney dodged testifying and refused to do it under oath or separately. We know that evidence was destroyed by FEMA, the FBI, and others, on orders from the administration. We know that FEMA and NIST have provided false information and cover. We know that the EPA gave false testimony about the safety of the air and water in New York. We know that some people were warned beforehand about 911, and that some of them tried to short the stock markets. We know that Al Qaeda was created by the US decades ago, and that the US still controlled Al Qaeda in 2001. We know that Osama bin Laden had been a CIA asset for decades. We know (from Richard Clarke) that members of the bin Laden family were in the US on 911 and that they were given special permission from the administration to fly out despite restrictions. We know that the US media has been censored by the CIA since 911, to prevent stories about 911 from being printed. We know that voting machines have been tampered with in all the elections since 2000, and that votes were purposely suppressed in Florida, Ohio, New Mexico, Oregon, and other states, not only in Presidential elections, but in many others. We know that both Democrats and Republicans have been complicit in widespread voter fraud. We know that both the Democrats and Republicans have not investigated vote fraud, especially by the use of computers, that they have blocked inquiries, and that they have stalled, covered up, or suppressed evidence. We know that both the Democrats and the Republicans in Congress have allowed the cover-up of 911, first by singing God Bless America on the steps of Congress, and since then by doing nothing. We know that Congress has passed the Patriots Acts, the Military Tribunal Acts, and that through much other legislation it has given the Executive Branch dictatorial powers in dealing with any “crisis”, foreign or domestic. We know that the Democrats have not overturned any of these powers, and that Obama has these powers just as much as Bush did. We know that both parties and all three branches have gutted the Constitution on purpose. We now know that 911 was the manufactured pretext for all of this.

We know that a lot of people are complicit in mass murder, not only of the people who died on 911, but of the people who were murdered in Afghanistan, Pakistan, Iraq, and now Libya, in manufactured wars based on false pretexts. Thousands of people have blood on their hands, either directly or indirectly, from those who ordered this to happen to those who let it happen or covered it up. We know that a large chunk of our federal taxes are going to these wars, and that therefore there is also blood on our own hands. By not stopping it now, we could be accused of covering it up. Those who are speaking out may be the cleanest, but until it stops, none of us are clean. Every American is being sullied by the government he is allowing to persist.

What can you do? A lot. Start by voting third party. Don't vote either Republican or Democrat, since they have both been bought. Don't vote for any candidate who starts talking about terrorism or defense. Don't use computers to vote. Demand a paper ballot that you can write on, or take your own. Remember that you can recall any officeholder, even the President. Talk to your neighbor and organize. Act in large groups, and don't get out in front of your group. Go to the polls in large groups, so that if you have to argue with staff there, you don't have to do it alone. Take your camera everywhere and document everything.

Get ready for a national strike. A lot of this stuff won't end until we end it. The system is fatally corrupt and is going to have to be shut down and restarted, just like your computer when it freezes. The Federal Reserve is going to have to be ended and the banks are going to have to be heavily regulated. Same for Wall Street. They have you afraid of a market crash, but that is what we need. The thing is, we need to be in charge of the crash, not the bankers. If they are in charge of it, they take our money. If we are in charge of it, we take their money (or we take our money back from them). They have you believing that all this debt is real, even though it has been proven to be manufactured. That is, they have you believing that poor people still owe more money to rich people! They have you believing that taxpayers need to pay off all this debt, but taxpayers are poor and those who loaned the money (or stole it) are rich. How does that make sense? No, the debt should actually be reversed. These banks and corporations and other institutions should be gutted, their assets seized along with the assets of the billionaires, their hidden assets found, and all this money should be returned, as theft and graft. If China needs to be paid back, let Goldman Sachs pay them back. Goldman Sachs has more assets than most countries, assets which they stole. They have you thinking that this would be bad, since they have convinced you that these big corporations actually do something that needs to be done. They don't. These banks and financial institutions and insurance companies and investment companies and other Wall Street entities don't actually provide any services or products. They exist solely to siphon off money. The best thing we could do is shut them all down. We then won't have less money in the real markets, we will have more, since we won't have lost all the money they are currently stealing. If you don't believe me, see the former broker and options trader Max Keiser.

OK, now for Obama. I will start by analyzing the photo under title, above. We were told that these people are watching the assassination of Osama bin Laden, live on a feed from Pakistan. But why is Obama sitting over in the corner in a small chair? He looks very tiny and inconsequential, doesn't he? Completely out of the loop. A child looking at this photo, asked to rank the power of the people in it, would not pick Obama as number one. No, I think he would be last, or near last. I would pick the general as number one, then the other people with seats at the table and computers. This would put both Hillary and Joe Biden above Obama. If this were a picture of a family at Thanksgiving or Christmas, instead of what it is, we might see Obama in a high chair, with a plate of mashed potatoes or maybe a pacifier.

Keep that in mind as we continue. I may be getting ahead of some of you here, but the next big thing is the "birther issue." If you think the release of the birth certificate is the end of that, you aren't paying attention. Things are just getting interesting. Something very big is happening, and it is happening now, not in the future. Not in 2012, but right now. The release of the birth certificate now means they have decided to run the latest gambit right now, this week. The announcement about Osama bin Laden tells us the same thing.* The dice are being rolled, right now. I predicted two years ago this would happen, and was only wrong about the timeline. I said then that the powers that be planned for this to come out, on purpose, and we are seeing that now. First of all, it is well known that the mainstream press is controlled. We already established that, above. That is why 911 truth still hasn't made the mainstream. The New York Times has admitted, in an oped piece, that it is "pre-read" by the CIA. So you aren't reading anything they don't want you to read. If you are reading it, it is because they want you to see it. This includes all the planted Wikileaks stuff, but we won't go there in this paper. That being so, you may assume that they wanted the birther controversy to be in the papers. They didn't censure it, which means they wanted it in the news, for their own purposes. Trump was just the chosen messenger. He was chosen because he is a good diversion: no one would think that Trump is a plant. He is seen as somewhat independent, so he doesn't seem to be a mouthpiece. But that is precisely what he is.

Trump was just the lead-in to the release of the latest Certificate of Live Birth. They wanted to release this thing, and the rest was just a preparation. This Certificate will turn out to be Obama's Watergate. Why? Because it is a fake. But it is not just a fake, it is a fake so fake that it will be guaranteed to be found out. Absolutely no one will be fooled. That is what is happening this week, as we speak. Every last person in the world is figuring out that this is a ham-handed fake (starting with those who know how to use photoshop). I won't even insult your intelligence by listing all the reasons: you will find out soon enough. [See below for a leaked copy of Obama's actual Hawaiian registration of birth].

If you want more evidence, consider the fact that Obama's social security number has been red-flagged by the government's own verification process, E-Verify. E-Verify was created by the Department of Homeland Security, and it is used by many businesses to check the citizenship of new hires. There is even a bill in Congress to mandate that all businesses use E-Verify. Why was Obama's SSN red-flagged? Probably because it uses numbers reserved for residents of Connecticut, but Obama has never lived in Connecticut. The dates of issuance also don't match. According to available records, Obama's first job was in 1975 in Hawaii, but his SSN was issued between 1977-79. This is just one of many continuity mistakes in the Obama story. Whoever was responsible for creating a seamless history for Obama lacked basic competence, or desired to leave clues.

Update July 2012: Sheriff Arpaio and his team from Arizona have now [released proof the birth certificate is a computer fake. CBS news and the Washington Times have reported on it. This after months of research and travel, and consulting many computer experts. In addition, Breitbart.com has broken the story that Obama's literary bio, which he gave to his agency himself, stated he was born in Kenya. It stated that through many updates, from 1991 to 2007, even after Obama was already running for President.]

Update, December 2013: Apparently feeling the heat from Arpaio and Breitbart.com and others, some of whom have been in contact with the office of the Director of Hawaii's Department of Health, the government decided to intercede and prevent the possibility of any leak or whistleblowing. As CNN just reported, the Director herself, Loretta Fuddy, [died mysteriously in a small plane crash on December 12. Fuddy had been the official in Hawaii responsible for confirming the "long form" birth certificate in 2011. Although the form posted on the internet in the linked article is actually a certificate of live birth (see below) and not a long form birth certificate, she is said to have "confirmed" it in this way:

I have seen the original records filed at the Department of Health and attest to the authenticity of the certified copies the department provided to the President that further prove the fact that he was born in Hawaii.

If you will notice, she doesn't specifically mention either of the birth certificates now posted on the internet, neither the first one published by Daily KOS nor the second one posted by the White House itself. She attests to the authenticity of the certified copies her department provided to the President, but doesn't confirm they match the certificate posted at whitehouse.gov or any other published certificates. At any rate, we all know that small plane crashes are one of the favorite ways of getting rid of people who know things, second only to fake suicides. So Fuddy's death is suspicious in the extreme. Possibly she had talked about reconsidering her confirmation, or clarifying it. Regardless, one of the primary witnesses is now dead (or relocated) and can't be subpoenaed or put under oath, which I think you will admit is convenient.]

Once everyone knows, and that should take only a matter of months [everyone who wants to know now knows], one of two things must happen: either Obama is eventually impeached, causing an exponential increase in national instability, or Obama is not impeached, which means that Congress and the people are already slaves. Either scenario plays into the hands of the new Nazis. If nothing happens, they know they have us right where they want us. They will know for sure that they can pull 911 inside jobs and install Manchurian candidates as President, and everyone will just stay home and cry. They won't have to attack the Constitution anymore, since we are already prostrate. They can just increase the levels of stealing and taxing even more, knowing we will say and do nothing. But if Obama is impeached, then they can use that to install the next round of controls. If Obama is impeached, blacks (and maybe whites, too) will riot, and this will be an excuse for more crackdowns and more Homeland Security laws.

What can you do? Don't riot. Don't consider having a race war, or arguing about race. Have a national strike instead, as above, which focuses on removing these Nazis instead of focusing on race. Don't take any of your cues from the national media, which will be trying to convince you to riot or talk about race. Don't vote for any of the candidates they offer you, don't follow any of the leaders they offer you, don't fall for any of their tricks. Don't take their drugs. Don't buy their products. Remember that it is not blacks or whites that caused any of this, it is bankers, Wall Street conmen, politicians, billionaires, the Pentagon, big corporations, the CIA, and media flunkies. Don't pay any new taxes. Demand the end to all the wars. And remember your right to assembly. If the police tell you to clear the streets, tell them that the streets are yours! The whole country is a free speech and free assembly area.

Don't panic, but be alert. And wake up Bob Dylan. The times they are a'changin. Do not go gentle into that bad night.

*Osama bin Laden's "death" is another piece of manufactured news. It didn't happen. Those people you see cheering in front of the White House were never there.

That's a fake composite photo, putting some college revelers in front of the White House with a paste-up. It looks like the White House is on top of a big hill. But anyone who has been to DC knows that it isn't.

Here is what people in front of the White House really look like. They are standing on the wall. If you moved them down to the sidewalk, and took a picture looking up at them, so that the White House was high in the picture, the fence would completely cover the White House. But in the celebrating students picture, the fence doesn't even come up to the window. We would need a huge rise of the lawn between the fence and the house, and as you can see, there isn't one.

The suits are trying to manipulate opinion, as usual. In this case, fake news of Osama allows them to get your attention off Obama's fake birth certificate, while raising the terror alert again and putting more troops in the streets (of America). This is transparent as it gets, folks. If you can't see through this one, you better check your prescriptions.

Update May 2012: The Army Times and Associated Press [are admitting now that the Pentagon is claiming it could not find any death certificate, autopsy report or results of DNA identification tests for bin Laden, or any pre-raid materials discussing how the government planned to dispose of bin Laden's body if he were killed. It said it searched files at the Pentagon, U.S. Special Operations Command in Tampa, Fla., and the Navy command in San Diego that controls the aircraft carrier Carl Vinson, used in the mission.

The Pentagon also claimed it could find no emails, no helicopter flight logs or maintenance logs, no photographs, and no video. Basically this is the Glomar response, which is a total {illegal} information blockade. This could be used to classify sensitive information beyond the reach of any Freedom of Information request by the AP; or, of course, it could be used to hide the fact there is no information, since none of this ever happened. You can't have records of a faked incident, and if you do, they will look fake. They don't want people like me analyzing their fake photos, fake logs, and so on, like I just did with the White House photo.]

Obama's Birth Certificate?

Birthers beware: Hawaii may start ignoring your repeated requests for proof that President Barack Obama was born here.

As the state continues to receive e-mails seeking Obama's birth certificate, the state House Judiciary Committee heard a bill Tuesday permitting government officials to ignore people who won't give up.

"Sometimes we may be dealing with a cohort of people who believe lack of evidence is evidence of a conspiracy," said Lorrin Kim, chief of the Hawaii Department of Health's Office of Planning, Policy and Program Development.

So-called "birthers" claim Obama is ineligible to be president because, they argue, he was actually born outside the United States, and therefore doesn't meet a constitutional requirement for being president.
