

Sex Trafficking?

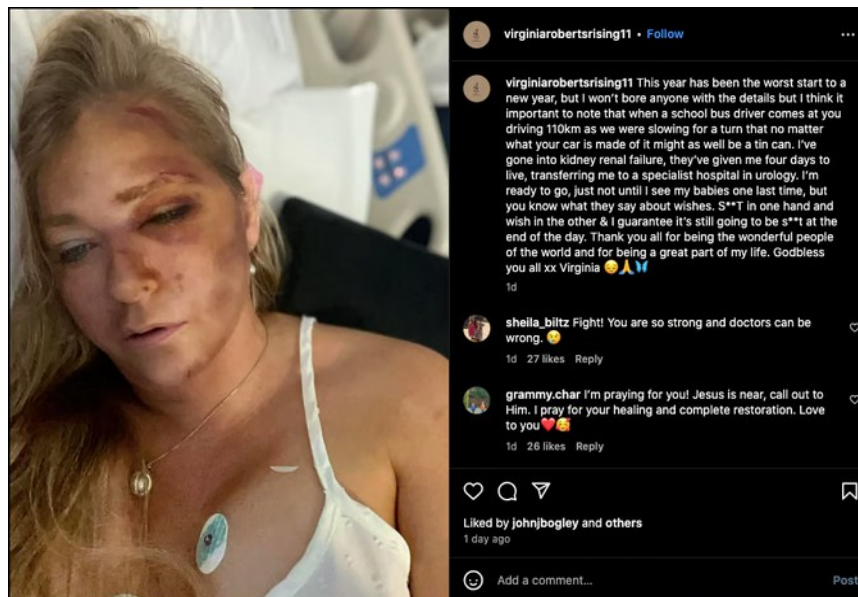

by Miles Mathis

April 2, 2025

This is speculation and opinion, as usual. Citizens are allowed to speculate about famous people: it is part of free speech. We are also allowed to question new stories. We are not required by law to believe everything we are told.

We will start with something else, to get it out of the way. Strange news from Louisiana, where four amendments to the State constitution were up for a vote. Although the result is somewhat surprising, with all four failing badly at about 35% yes, despite being pushed by the Republican majority, that isn't why I am here. I actually think they deserved to fail. What hit me with this story was the vote totals. Only about 630,000 votes were received out of 3 million registered voters, in a state with with at least 3.57 million of voting age. They tell us that was a 36% turnout, but it wasn't. 36% would be 1.1 million votes. It was a 21% turnout of registered voters and a 17.7% turnout of all voting aged persons. That's the lowest I have ever heard of in a statewide election.

For more on Epstein, [see my 2019 paper, second part.]

And in other news, we find fake Epstein and Prince Andrew victim Virginia Giuffre (now back to her maiden name Roberts) apparently faking her death in slow motion. There she is claiming to have been hit by a schoolbus going 110mph, now has four days to live. At least two big problems there, right? Schoolbuses don't go 110mph, unless you drop them from an airplane or something. Why would you design a schoolbus to go 110mph? For the schoolbus races? Even worse, look at her! If you were hit by a bus going that fast, you would look much much worse than that. That is just stage make-up. I guess those are supposed to be bruises, but bruises aren't even that color. And there is no swelling. Plus, she is missing a neck brace, isn't she? The first and worst injury in such a collision would be a neck injury. And nice that she is in intensive care, literally dying, but she has the time and strength to post long stupid messages with emojis on social media.

They already admit at Wikipedia, on her page:

The Western Australia police later announced that they had records of a "minor crash" between a bus and a car on March 24, but that no injuries had been reported as a result.[120]

In case you don't know, the old story is Giuffre allegedly went from being a sex-trafficked teen at age 14 on the streets of Miami to living at Mar-a-Lago with Donald Trump in the same year. Because her father was maintenance manager there. RIGHT! You may want to ask why she was living on the streets at 14 when her father worked for Trump. Did he bump his head on a pool sculpture, forgetting he had a daughter for a few years, suddenly coming out of a semi-coma when she was 14, and running to her in a teary-eyed embrace? And Trump had no problem hiring a guy who left his daughter to live on the streets? This story makes absolutely no sense.

In mid-2000,[23][24] Giuffre met Ghislaine Maxwell when working as a spa attendant at Donald Trump's private Mar-a-Lago club while reading a book about massage therapy. [19] Maxwell, a British socialite and daughter of the late media tycoon Robert Maxwell, approached Giuffre, noted the book that she was reading, inquired about her interest in massage, and offered her a potential job working for Epstein as a traveling masseuse with the assurance that no experience was necessary. [19]

That's straight from Wiki. It just keeps going like that, making less and less sense. So Trump hired 14-year-old hookers as spa attendants? Why wasn't she in school? Are we supposed to believe Florida doesn't have any truancy laws or laws concerning underage workers? Trump wasn't aware you couldn't hire 14-year-old girls as spa attendants to work on school days? If Giuffre was sex-trafficked out of Mar-a-Lago, why has Trump avoided being caught up in this whole fracas? I am not saying Trump was involved, I am saying the whole thing appears to be another vaudeville, with Trump just being a fellow actor here. No one was sex-trafficked because the whole story is ludicrously full of these holes. Giuffre's entire Wiki page is a vast absurdity. It reads like it was written by Edward Lear. If you don't believe me, go read it. Please.

Here's another example: Giuffre accused Alan Dershowitz of being one of her Johns in 2014, they sued each other several times and this went on for eight years, until 2022 when Giuffre suddenly dropped all claims and said she was mistaken. Dershowitz also suddenly dropped it, after both of them allegedly spent millions of dollars. We aren't told where she got the money to hire all these attorneys for eight years of litigation.

Despite being the most high-profile victim in the news, Giuffre was not allowed to join the 2015 Crime Victims Rights Act lawsuit, the judge striking her affidavit from the court record. Why? They don't tell you, but I just did: he probably knew her entire story was another CIA joke.

If you want to read more things that make no sense, you can follow along with the full story here at the Miami Herald. Note for instance that although the Crime Victims Act we just saw stated that victims have a right to be informed of the terms of a plea bargain, Epstein plea-bargained and the court refused to release the terms of the plea bargain to the victims (2009). That was then a federal crime committed in broad daylight by alleged courts and judges, but nothing was done. No one at Justice, the FBI, ICE, or any other agency or court intervened, and neither did any Florida Congresspeople. Why? Because, for some reason, the victims forgot to ask them to. It all just dissolved into smoke, as usual.

In that same year, Epstein was on probation, confined to his Palm Beach home. And yet they admit he traveled to New York and the Virgin Islands whenever he wanted to and his parole officer did nothing. He should have been immediately sent back to jail, along with his parole officer, but again nothing happened. The Herald admits this is odd, but doesn't come to the correct conclusion: it isn't a sign this was odd, it is a sign it was fake. This simply doesn't happen. You don't skate all laws in a high-profile case with no one noticing. You only do that in a pretend case run by the CIA.

Just so you know, Giuffre was married by age 19 in 2002, moving to Australia with her husband Robert. Giuffre didn't report anything to authorities, and wasn't involved until five years later when the FBI called her in Australia.

Here's a strange site, Whizzherald, claiming that Robert Giuffre is actually the father of Virginia Giuffre, not her husband. Do they know something we don't, or is this just AI with its head up its plug again? If they are just making this up, they got very creative:

Robert Giuffre is a retired airline pilot who spent over 30 years flying for TWA and American Airlines. He's a father of three, including his daughter Virginia, and has been married to his wife, Carolyn, for over 50 years. His life took a dramatic turn when his daughter Virginia disclosed that she had been sexually abused by Jeffrey Epstein and his associates when she was a teenager.

Robert Giuffre also became involved in the case. He filed a sworn affidavit supporting his daughter's allegations against Epstein and his associates, including Prince Andrew and Alan Dershowitz. His testimony helped to shed light on the extent of Epstein's network and the harm he inflicted on young women.

Someone seems very sure that Robert is her father, eh? Wikipedia tells us her parents are Sky and Lynn Roberts, so I guess Sky is the father? One thing we learn from Wiki of interest: Giuffre is pronounced Joo-fray. Or... Jew-fray.

So let's ask the big computer at Instantcheckmate what it thinks. Well, it thinks Wikipedia and Whizzherald are both taking a big whizz.

Her middle name is Lee, not Louise, and she isn't related to anyone named Jew-fray, either husband or father. She is separated, not divorced, but her husband/ex-husband should come up regardless. No record of a birth in Sacramento, either. No record of Mar-a-Lago or Palm Beach or Miami. Titusville is up by Orlando. No one on that list looks like a husband.

That's her father, and he also does not have Palm Beach or Mar-a-Lago on his list. Radaris also has no locations for him near Mar-a-Lago. Summerfield is north of Orlando, in the middle of the state. Those other locations indicate he is probably military, though. Whizzherald also suggests that conclusion, telling us her father was a pilot, indicating Air Force. Such a person would not be working maintenance at Mar-a-Lago. Radaris tells us he goes by Sky Walker Roberts as well. Cute, but he IS related to Walkers. He is related to a Jet Roberts, but this just seems to be him under yet another Air Force codename. Virginia's younger brother is Sky Rocket Roberts, 36, same locations as his father, plus Atlanta, Smyrna, and Mableton GA. That probably indicates Dobbins Air Reserve Base.

Lynn Roberts, 64, is strange, since she doesn't come up in a search at Instantcheckmate. At Radaris, she is listed as Lynne Trude Miller, but is not linked to either Sky or Virginia. Instead she is linked to Kayce Walker Lampp, 52, of Wildwood, FL. Radaris also does not link Sky Roberts to Lynn Roberts. We do link to many other Walkers, and I remind you that the Bushes are Walkers. In fact, Radaris gives us a big hint, listing Michael Walker of this family as aka Walker Group. The Walker Group is a big property development company out of Australia, giving us that link again. That was run by billionaire Aussie Lang Walker, who just died last year.

Lynn Miller apparently remarried Stanley Wade Miller, 68, of Colorado, previously of Denver, Dallas, and Wasilla, AK. Wasilla could be Joint Base Elmendorf north of Anchorage.

Through these Walkers we also link to Wanda Cuff, 55, daughter of Emerson Walker, Jr. She just happens to work for the Orlando Sheriff's Dept for nine years (see LinkedIN), which means she was there back to 2016.

Also see Genipher Walker, aka Brown, 58, of this family, of Henrico and Aliso Viejo, so that could be FBI. In cases like this, it almost always is.

We have a second link to Anchorage with Bethany Walker Cofresi, 48, of this family, who has also lived in West Palm Beach, giving us that link as well. There are not a whole lot of links between Anchorage and West Palm Beach other than military, it goes without saying. Cofresi is also a huge hint here, since the Cofresis are very rich people, being Miami billionaires. So again, it is very strange to see that name coming up so closely linked to Virginia Giuffre.

Wow, our poor widdle runaway sex-trafficked teen here, who just happened to be upperclass gorgeous, sure had a lot of connections, didn't she? Not only to Mar-a-Lago, but to multiple military bases and police forces and Miami billionaires. Just a coincidence, though, I'm sure.

So who is Robert Giuffre?

Very scrubbed. According to Radaris, the second one is 95, so we may assume that isn't him. Maybe his father. Radaris tells us the first one is now in Penrose, CO, but again no age or other relatives. As you see, Robert Giuffre has Anthony Giuffre on his list. A search on that finds the Italian mobster Anthony Giuffre, 79, Cosa Nostra #2, which doesn't surprise us. Our Anthony Giuffre from Florida is listed as 95, related to Bernice, 95, and Lori, 55, of Annapolis, MD and DC. They link us to the Giuffres of Carmel, New York, including Caesar Giuffre, 33, of Hill AFB, Utah. Instantcheckmate returns zero results nationwide on Richard Raushenbush or Rauschenbush, but Radaris does, linking us to Turnure, Siminas, and Ashton. But the best is his location: McLean, VA. CIA's front doorstep.

So this went exactly where we would have guessed.

But why? Why fake this huge Epstein thing? I have told you before that like Weinstein, Epstein, Clinton, and the rest of those guys, including I guess Prince Andrew, are gay. They have no interest in Lolitas. Lolitos, maybe. So I knew this was fake from the first word. Remember, they admit

In February 2022, The Daily Telegraph published a photograph of Andrew along with Ghislaine Maxwell giving a tour of Buckingham Palace to Andrew's guests Bill Clinton and Kevin Spacey, with a member of the tour party describing Maxwell as "the one who led us into Buckingham Palace".^[106]

Do you see the clue there? Kevin Spacey. Do you think Spacey was there with Clinton trolling for Lolitas? I also remind you of this:

Hmmm. No girls there, but we do have Matt Damon, Ben Affleck, Bill Clinton, and Harvey Weinstein, seeming to confirm what I just told you. The only thing in their favor is that they are watching football and not, say, The Pirates of Penzance.

No, this is obviously yet another in a long line of Operation Chaos/Operation Men-are-Pigs projects, run to create widespread fear and confusion and to split the sexes. These big projects do double duty, keeping your mind off other things by flooding you with these sexy and salacious stories, while at the same time making you think all men are nothing but rapists and child molesters and serial killers. What better way to split the sexes, turning many women into paranoid headcases? That split provides massive profits for the usual suspects, creating a million new markets, while giving people no one to cling to but the government and their actor/pawns. And with no families but trembling mothers, the kids are also set free for the merchants to prey on and further propagandize in the next round.

I will end on this:

Some have said it is fake while others say it is real.

IT IS FAKE.

If you are a Prince banging underage sex-trafficked girls, do you really stop to get a candid photo with them, so that it can leak and bring down your career? Of course not. This was taken with a flash, as we can see by the reflection in the window in the rear. A flash would wash them all out pretty much equally, so why is Ghislaine so dark? Is she an Indian or a Pakistani or something? No:

She's is your standard Jewish lady, only marginally more florid than a pale blonde girl, as you see there.

But there are many other problems with that photo, starting with its lack of resolution, as you can see by comparing it to the second one. The second is clear as a bell, while the first is all foggy, like a computer just farted on it. Why? To hide all the seams. But we still see a very obvious one on Andrew's chin. See that straight horizontal line where his head meets his neck? Yeah, real bodies don't have that, do they?

You may also be surprised to see how short Epstein is. Barely taller than the ladies, a George Clooney type, though probably without the surface charm. A creep yes, but not the kind of creep you have been sold. Same for Prince Andrew, who obviously agreed to be part of this conjob, along with many other prominent men over the past decade. You are told he has lost many privileges, but I would assume the reverse. He has lost some popularity with the public, yes, but these people don't care about that. They have no concern for your opinion of them. They are completely shielded from it. He was tapped for this project and was no doubt happy to oblige, it making him appear useful for a change. It is not like he was busy.

And, to be honest, these stories actually help the image of these people with many, since it makes them look like het studs. Most guys probably see that next-to-the-last image and think, "Yeah, OK, if you can get away with it, go for it man. Wish I was a Prince." She's 17 there, legal in most countries in the world, including Canada and the UK, and most US states (including New England, where the age of consent is 16). Only 12 US states require a girl to be 18 now. Florida is one of them, but there should be some sort of equal protection clause here: there is no reason for it be different in each state.

I pause to circle that strange fact: in stodgy old New England, you can sleep legally with a 16-year-old, but in hedonistic California, she has to be 18. Kind of upside-down to expectation, isn't it? Maybe it is a cold weather thing.

Which reminds us: do you really think Andrew was that stupid? If you are banging young girls for your jollies, wouldn't you do it where you could do it legally? Andrew could boink these 16-year-olds in the UK, Spain, Canada, Australia, Russia, and 33 US states, but he is going to specifically get caught in Florida? And it gets better, or worse, since he could be legally boinking 14-year-old girls in Germany, Italy, Portugal, Hungary, Austria, and the Balkans. Also in China. He could legally be boinking 15-year-old girls in Sweden, France, Greece, Poland, Czechia, Slovakia, Croatia, and Denmark. Turkey is the only European country that still requires a girl to be 18!

Also germane here is that if 14 is still too old for you, you can drive down to Mexico, where the age of consent is 12 in many places, including just across the border in Sonora or Baja Sur. Keep that in mind as you read about sex-trafficking. Sex trafficking is hardly necessary in that case, is it? Why get involved in sex-trafficking, which is illegal, when it is so easy to do it legally? Don't misunderstand me, I am not promoting this or condoning it. I am completely against it. I have zero interest in whores or sluts of any age. I have never gotten near one. We didn't even go to a strip club for my bachelor party. Personally I prefer the pretty librarian type. I am just pointing out that it doesn't match what we are being sold, either in this story about Epstein, or in the larger stories about sex trafficking.

You will say many guys don't like to travel, so they have the girls brought to them, which is illegal. So you are telling me these guys are too lazy to drive over a state or two and do it legally, risking years in jail? That may happen, I don't know, but it seems to me that Prince Andrew could probably afford to fly to whatever Euro country he liked, picking from thousands of legal girls of all sizes, shapes, colors, and ages, down to 14. Which blows this story and most others right out of the water.

Am I claiming sex trafficking is fake, or doesn't happen? Of course not. Everything that can happen does. What I am pointing out is that although I think this particular event with Epstein and Andrew was fake, there are no doubt other similar events that are real, but that still aren't sex trafficking, since they don't fit the definition. Sex trafficking requires, by definition, money changing hands, coercion, prostitution, and travel of the girls (or boys). But if the girls aren't doing it for money, aren't traveling, aren't coerced, and aren't underage, it is all strictly legal. You can well imagine there are a lot of teen girls who would jump at the chance to hang out with princes or other famous people, and who would be happy to sleep with them, with no payment involved. Just for the experience. You might go for that yourself. It is best to remember that when reading these things in the press. A lot of people assume Andrew skated because he is a royal or paid off hundreds of people. No, even had this been real, he would have skated because nothing he did was illegal. In most places, a guy sleeping with a willing 16-year-old girl is not a crime. If you are against that, OK, but realize that is what the baseline here is.

You will say Prince Andrew couldn't meet these girls in a bar in Germany or somewhere, since the bars don't let in girls that young. No, they don't, for the most part, though there are fake IDs, you know. But the younger kids do meet up somewhere, so all Andrew or anyone else has to do is show up looking for a date there, like anyone else would. He doesn't need groomers or go-betweens, much less pimps. Unless he was a very young prince, most girls wouldn't be interested, but some would. The boys wouldn't be happy to have him there, but what could they do? He travels with security, so what does he care what they think? Teens never have chaperones anymore, they congregate pretty much as they like, so just about anyone, prince or not, can show up hoping to hook up. It isn't illegal and isn't policed, so the girls do whatever they want, with whoever they want. Again blowing a hole in the sex trafficking story. Unless you want under-14s or sex slaves or something really weird, none of this is illegal or hard to find, especially in Europe, so no sex-trafficking is necessary.

About all a prince or anyone else would have to do is avoid coercion, avoid roughing anyone up, and avoid paying anyone. But he could even get away with giving gifts, since what guy doesn't give gifts to girls to soften them up? The law could hardly prosecute that, since it would then have to prosecute every guy who paid for a date's dinner or bought her flowers or candy.

I am just pointing out the door is wide open here, and has been for decades, so most of these sex trafficking stories don't make any sense. Most of them look to me like more fear porn, of the fake serial killer type. Rich people don't need to traffic girls, they just show up, as I just showed you. And poor people can't afford trafficking fees, so I don't really understand who is the big clientele here. If millions of girls were being trafficked, even here in the States, as we are told, then why are most guys still so lonely? I've met a lot of lonely and frustrated guys, but I have never met or even heard of anyone involved in this. Never even a rumor of it, or a hint of it.

It also doesn't fit the porn phenomenon, which of course I do believe in. Most guys deal with their shortages that way, of course, so they have no need for trafficked girls or even of hookers. All the porn and run-of-the-mill prostitution doesn't leave a lot of room for scary sex trafficking, since it is a zero-sum game.

No, I think these sex trafficking stories are mostly more of the same: the decades-long project to create irrational fear, particularly in women, and through that fear to destroy the heterosexual relationship. The project also diverts attention away from the real problem, that being that many women have permanently removed themselves from the heterosexual dating pool. They aren't incels, since that means involuntary celibates. These women are voluntary, though the choice was made under huge duress. You hear a lot about male incels, guys who are celibate through no choice of their own—they just can't make it happen anymore. And why can't they make it happen anymore? Because their potential partners have removed themselves from the pool. Due to distrust of men, these women have become pretend lesbians or celibates, avoiding men on principle.

Basically, we can split the female side of the equation in two: women who are still sleeping with men and those who aren't. You may not like to hear this, but those who are tend to skew to the less intelligent, due to the fact they have been less propagandized. They don't read or watch the news, so many aren't even aware of what is going in the world. They judge the world only by what they see and experience, which of course isn't nearly as bad as what is in the news. So, ironically, it is the smarter women who are most likely to fall to mainstream propaganda, simply because they experience it more. They go to college, listen to NPR, read books, and know recent history, or what stands for it. This is also why smarter people of both sexes are more suicidal, contrary to expectation. You would think dumber people would be more suicidal, due to having worse jobs and being poorer, but that isn't the way it goes, either here or in Europe. Smarter people are generally more miserable, starting way back in highschool, and I just told you why: they know and internalize more of this fake news.

You will say they can't be that smart, since if they were really smart they would see through it, and that may be true. But, remember, the dumb people didn't avoid this because they saw through it. They avoided it through sheer ignorance. They didn't even come into contact with the propaganda, so basically they just got lucky. So don't be too hard on smart people. You have to be extremely smart to dodge the current webs, and almost no one does.

Anyway, what this means for smarter guys is that their women have been taken out of the pool in far greater percentages. If, like me, you were used to dating brainy girls back in 1985, say, what you saw over the next years and decades was an ever rising number of broken women. Broken by serial killer stories, date rape stories, #Metoo movements, and the whole smorgasbord of anti-Male propaganda they have been swimming in since the 1970s. Many blame feminism, but neo-feminism wasn't created by women, it was created by the top dogs, Phoenician Navy men who have been behind all the other lies and distortions of the past two centuries. This feminism hasn't been pro-woman, it has been wildly anti-woman, with women being its main target. They were thought to be more emotionally responsive, so they were targeted in this split-the-sexes project. Their natural sexuality has been obliterated on purpose, while tagging that sexual obliteration as progress and freedom. Really one of the worst projects ever.

So while they tell you there are too few men in the dating pool, due to more women being alive, it is actually the reverse that is true: there are too few women, and the top end has been lopped. So you end up with 100 guys trying to date 50 women, and the willing women end up getting passed around. That's exactly what is going on where I live now. The only thing that evens up the number a bit is that many guys like me aren't interested in dating pass-arounds, so we drop out of the pool. I should be near the top of the heap around here, but I am not even in the heap. I don't even show up. Celibate, but not really involuntary, as you see. Voluntary, but under huge duress. Meaning, I could score quite easily if I took what was available, but I have no interest in it.

This spins out in yet another way, because of course there are a few smart women still in the pool, and they may be the most lost of all. Since all the guys like me bowed out, these women are looking around finding nothing. You see them complaining in the press. Where did all the good men go? We have been obliterated with the rest, which was the whole point of the project.

This is what is really going on in the world, though you never hear about it. Because a lot of what I just said isn't PC, everyone has to pretend they don't know it, especially in the circles I run in, or used to run in. There are millions of guys in the same boat I am, and I know because I hear from many of them in email. This is the real pandemic. And these guys aren't on the edge of trying sex trafficking. They aren't on the edge of becoming serial killers or mass murderers or rapists. The great majority of them aren't even interested in hookers, since hookers aren't our type.

It isn't that they can't make it happen, it is that they have no interest in what is available. The women they might have dated back in the 1980s have become extinct. Or, they exist, but they are so traumatized they are undatable. They either stay home, or, if they go out, they act like some sort of zombie. Remember above I said I went for the pretty librarian type. Well, that is exactly the type that has been most traumatized. She reads the most books and consumes the most media, so of course she falls hardest to the propaganda programs. She has been target number one for decades, and that was all by design. The highest percentiles in intelligence have been targeted the most, since they require the most control. They are where the revolution would come from. They are where any counter movement would come from, as I have proven. That is where my movement is coming from.

They had hoped to destroy us through loneliness and isolation, and to a large extent they have. Society had already been obliterated before Covid came along: that was just the mop up. But real knowledge is power, which is why I am here. I am here to tell you that we can go back. For the men, it will be pretty easy, as far as rebuilding ourselves. We have testosterone to keep us on Nature's track, so most of us are just biding our time. When the switch flips we will be back to 100% pretty fast. For the women, it is isn't so easy, since they have to unlearn decades of deep-seated mistrust and fear. You can't clear out all that darkness overnight, since even if you learn the truth about this project, your soul is still stained by years of soot and ash. Your responses have already been learned and are now automatic. Can that dark halo you see around men ever really be cleaned away?

Only time will tell, but I think it can. The thing is, you have to clean it yourself. No one else can do it. You have to actively scrub yourself and the rest of the world of this great crime.

Addendum April 28, 2025: The press is now claiming Giuffre has died of suicide, but three days later her own attorney and friend has just admitted that local police are still not confirming that. “Not even confirming she is dead.” That hasn't stopped Alex Jones and others from jumping to the conclusion she was murdered by accomplices of Epstein, I guess to keep her from saying more. Though I am not sure what more she could say. She has already been making up stuff for 18 years. It is also now being admitted that no police came to the scene of her horrific bus accident a month ago, where she was allegedly T-boned by a schoolbus going 110mph and nearly killed. Not sure why the bus was going 110, maybe it was on a long straight steep hill and the brakes went out? No clarification on that, other than parents of the kids on the bus saying she made up the whole thing. As for the police not filing a report, we are told (at Wiki, for instance, so it must be true) that they didn't have anyone available to send to the accident. Right. A loaded schoolbus going 110mph crashes and no police or ambulances respond? Makes sense.

It is obvious to me that she faked her death, so I don't know why I would be the only one suggesting it. If she lied about the crash, wouldn't you assume she was lying about the suicide as well? She is very connected, as I showed you, and it is easy-peasy for these people to fake a death. They do it every day. Just pay off a coroner. But this one is being handled so poorly, I wouldn't be surprised if she got caught. It does happen occasionally.
