Sporcle, the big trivia site probably co-written by Intelligence to keep you focused on Harry Potter, Taylor Swift, and US Presidents, nonetheless drops some useful information occasionally.

This is their game today called “ChatGPT generates terrible animals”. You are supposed to figure out what animals those are meant to be. Answers below.

You can see why I am not too worried about losing my job to AI. Chat can't tell a zebra from a piano, and apparently thinks the zebra has five legs. Chat thinks an elephant has one eye and a nose like Jimmy Durante.
