Koran burner allegedly murdered in Sweden in his home during a Tiktok livestream.

"Five people were arrested overnight in connection with the murder incident," Anna Westberg from Stockholm police's media center told Middle East Eye.

"The police received the alarm at 11:11 pm. A prosecutor has been assigned to the case, and the police are cooperating with them in the ongoing investigation," Westberg added.

Salwan Momika. Fake name alert. Chosen to make you think of Salman Rushdie. Momika has always been an agent, working for PMF against the fake ISIS. PMF is a CIA-front and ISIS is a CIA-creation. Although allegedly just an Iraqi refugee,

He was seen in pictures outside the Riksdag along with [Robert Halef \[sv\]](#), a member of the Riksdag for the Christian Democrats. He also had a meeting with Julia Kronlid, a member of the Riksdag for the Sweden Democrats.^[16] Momika later stated that he wanted to run for election to the Riksdag as a candidate for the party.^[18]

Even the footnote number is a marker. Why isn't it 17? And that guy he met with just happens to be. . . Jewish. Halef=Halevi. Halef comes from Turkey and spent all his time promoting awareness of the Syrian genocide. Kind of strange for a Swedish lawmaker. Shouldn't Swedish lawmakers be involved in Swedish politics, not Syrian politics? He called for a conference against genocide. To oppose the conference on the other side of the hall for genocide? He retired in 2022 after being found to be tied to criminal gangs in Sweden. I didn't make that up: it is on his Wiki page.

DC plane/helicopter crash. Runway 33. We also saw the number 18 in early reports. Why would the Air Force ever have cross traffic on that line where commercial jets are landing all day and night? It makes no sense that a Blackhawk would ever be there, especially at that altitude and that near an approach to a runway.

Trump is now proposing restricting airspace for helicopters. What? So we are supposed to believe the landing flight path of commercial jets isn't restricted airspace? Anyone can fly through there with no problem? Good to know. This just means a secondary point of this fake is to continue to scare you off flying. Some dude in a Piper Cub may be joyriding across your path just as your 727 is landing at O'Hare.

In another quote from Trump, he is saying the Blackhawk was flying too high. So Blackhawks are normally flying under the flightpaths of landing jets at these airports? Again, good to know. Makes sense.

Hegseth tells us this Blackhawk flight was an “annual proficiency training exercise”. So the Air Force keeps its pilots in shape by having them fly through the flight paths of landing commercial jets? And we are supposed to believe that? Hegseth is promising total transparency in this event. Right.

Within hours the government was releasing all data, like flight paths and communications. Why would they do that before any investigation? This also indicates the event was scripted.

Just so you know, many professional pilots are already called ix-nay on this story. It is absurd and simply cannot have happened as we are being told.

So one or both of those craft must be misidentified. One or both were unmanned, and this whole thing was manufactured as part of Operation Chaos, to get your attention off other things. Either that, or one of those people onboard was targeted—maybe the Philippine colonel, the Pakistani, or one of the two Chinese.

Having Nancy Kerrigan involved suggests to me the whole thing was simply staged with dummy aircraft, since we have caught her staging major events before. That would suggest the skaters didn't die, so where did they go? I don't know, maybe the same place Payne Stewart went? They chose skaters on the edge of retirement and paid them handsomely to disappear for a while, in a beach house in Cancun.

Also pushing us in that direction is that a main eyewitness is Ari Schulman, who just happens to be a big spook himself. Editor of the New Atlantis, which was founded by a Cohen.

Plus, as they release the victims list, we find the same thing here we found in the victims list of the fake 911 planes: everyone is a minor celebrity of some sort. No one on the commercial flight is an average person. They are either on the figure skating team, or a black Miss Kansas contestant now Howard University professor, or a foreign Lt. Colonel, or something. Extremely suspicious and unlikely. The Miss Kansas contestant Kiah Duggins is especially suspicious, since she is a near-perfect CIA candidate, having worked for the Civil Rights Corps and being a very attractive black female. Just what they need to hit their DEI quotas. They tell us she was on her way to Howard to start her new job, but her new job was probably at Langley, not Howard, and this event will give her cover. Her mother Gwendolyn is a Decker, which is a Jewish name. She has a brother named Nazzic, which is weird enough, making us think of Nazi or Ashkenazi, but he is also in Aurora, CO, with several other military locations. Her grandmother is Albertha Grant, who has a 1-hour memorial video up at youtube from her 2021 funeral. She allegedly died of Covid at 99. Not of old age, but of Covid. Her aunt Pamela also looks military, with locations in Gilbert, Cheyenne, and St. Thomas, VI, (Bourne Field). Her grandfather George is listed as 100, with only one location in Kansas, but he actually died in St. Kitts, also Virgin Islands. Which is a pretty posh place. So Albertha may have died there as well.

[February 1: Just in: The female pilot of the Blackhawk has now been identified as Capt. Rebecca Lobach. Ah, so now we know why they didn't want to release her name. Actually, many reasons. One, she is Jewish. Lobach is Russian Jewish, being short for Lobachevsky—a very famous name. See Lobachevsky University in Nizhny Novgorod. Two, she's a captain at age 28, so on the fast track. Three, she has been working as a White House aide for the past three years, which means she is probably a Pentagon or CIA liaison. Four, like Duggins she is quite attractive, making her a very useful agent for CIA. So, again, this event looks like an excuse to put her undercover. Fake her death, cut her hair, and change her name. That's how it's done.

February 2: Her sister Elizabeth Lobach is a Hollywood producer and assistant director, with a page at IMDB. Most other internet sites have been scrubbed for Elizabeth Lobach. Her IMDB page also looks scrubbed, since no projects are listed for the past five years. Her last one was a 2020 project for CIA-front Netflix.]

They supposedly know the pilots of the Blackhawk were wearing night vision goggles. How would they know that. They tell us that may have contributed to the crash, since they couldn't see very well. Oh, that makes sense, then. They were wearing goggles so they couldn't see? Are we supposed to believe that is primary Air Force protocol? Why not just fly with blinders on, in that case, with the lights off?

There's an interesting graphic, showing that until the past decade, the US outspent the entire rest of the world combined on “defense”. Both China and Russia are in the red band. Since Europe is an ally, the dark blue band goes with us as well, so even now we far outspend Russia+China. By about three times, in fact.

But the main reason I am posting that is to remind you that back in the time of Reagan, we were told we were in a spending war with Russia, the Evil Empire. Remember that? I remember being told the spending was about equal, or that Russia was even outspending us. But now they admit that was a big fat lie. Look at the graph for 1993, where we see Russia+China was only about about a fifth of US spending, and a seventh of US+Europe. And if you keep going back in time, it only gets worse. It was even more skewed to us in the 1980s, though they don't have a bar for that decade here.

I remind you that light blue bar is your taxdollars. All wasted, since Russia was never a threat to us and isn't now. Same for China.

And I draw your attention to the growth of European spending since 2013. Almost doubled in the past decade, hasn't it? In this article, they are saying most of the growth comes from Asia, but that isn't true, either. The greatest growth in that graph is Europe. So why is Trump asking Europe to vastly increase spending, up to 5% of GDP? Only one reason: to enrich military contractors, and thereby the very wealthy, even more. It is all a colossal scam, getting bigger by the decade. That is what that graph shows you. So it is kind of strange they publish it. I guess they figure you are too vaccine-damaged to know what it means.

Plus, Trump is now promoting a fake Iron Dome for the US, like the fake Iron Dome in Israel. My correspondent in Israel already blew the cover of that one. So this would be another Reagan Star Wars-type boondoggle, to steal more of your taxes for the plutocrats. How many billions were flushed down the toilet for that? If you include the Brilliant Pebbles fake and the GPALS fake during the Bush years, hundred of billions of your taxdollars were stolen by the Pentagon and they delivered. . . precisely nothing, as usual.

Today they are admitting “A missile arms race is already in full swing”. So more of your stolen taxdollars down the drain. DOGE will fail to notice, of course, while saving you pennies on DEI. A missile arms race, meaning a race to build the most dummy warheads in impressive looking shells, to keep you afraid and taxed to the max.

In order to increase the fear porn, the Bulletin of Atomic Fake Scientists has set the Doomsday Clock to 89 seconds to midnight, the greatest danger ever, outdoing the fear of 1953, when all the schoolchildren were hiding under their desks. This is to go with the pictures and films of mushroom clouds they have been shoving down your throat from every media outlet—mainstream and alternative—for the past five years, just in case you weren't already scared enough from the Covid scam.

This is the worst gaslighting possible, as I told you in my last paper on Chomsky, where I not only re-outed him as a spook, I included a long segment on the lizard Leo Szilard and the fake Bulletin of Atomic Scientists. I remind you to not only ignore it, but to shove it forcibly back down their throats, telling them to leave you the eff alone! There are no nukes, it is all a massive conjob, done you bilk you out of trillions of dollars, see graph above.

Trump has now signed the Laken Riley Act. One problem: the whole thing is another fake. It is yet another story manufactured by the spooks to create division, increase tension, and continue to propel the Men-are-Pigs project. But mainly it was staged to propel the Red/Blue rift, blackwashing illegal aliens to drum up support for Trump. Yes, we have let in way too many aliens in the past four years, but the Republicans have wanted to be sure you got that message by manufacturing a whole raft of these stories of murder and mayhem. It helps their side while creating fear and division, not only between the sexes but between the races: so just what the Phoenicians in both parties love most.

As my readers and I expected, the release of JFK assassination documents is already being used to “prove” LBJ and CIA got him. This is to answer my papers, which show NO ONE got him, since the whole thing was another staged event. JFK was mortally ill and, as with the other fake Presidential assassinations, they wished to elevate LBJ without going through the normal channels. If JFK had retired, Congress may have tried to call a special election, which the Dems wished to avoid. Plus, a fake assassination would install LBJ with maximum emotion and support, while keeping fear and anxiety at a maximum, which the Phoenicians always love. They had done this three previous times and it always worked like a charm. It is their number one method of control, so they welcome any event that creates fear and destabilization. It keeps your eyes off the real world of rapine and conditions you to support increased defense, Intel, and police spending. The Phoenicians need a permanent state of national crisis to tie you to them emotionally. That's why you are under a constant call to "come together as a nation" and support the government, the troops, the police, and the current regime, without questioning anything. Questioning is always bad, but really insubordinate in these "times of national crisis", which is all the time. Great way to short circuit a revolution, right? So if they aren't starting wars they are manufacturing tragedies and calling for you to hang ribbons or flags for something or someone.

According to the latest government polls, the Democratic Party is 33 points underwater, leading to calls for a complete overhaul. I am sure it will come out the other end new and improved, don't you? Tends to confirm my long reading that this was a planned fail. It will be an excuse to move the Dems to the "center", meaning to the far right with the Reps. Same thing we saw with Clinton in the 1990s, but moreso. Trump is currently making some bows to reforming the Fed, the Pentagon, and the CIA and FBI, but my prediction is nothing much will come of that. He will purge them of DEI but that is about it. The FBI will be further humiliated, but that has been their function since the time of Nixon: they are the whipping dog of the Intel agencies, kept around only to draw fire and keep eyes off the big dogs. Again, another planned fail. Trump has already appointed Soros stooge Scott Bessent to Treasury, so we can be sure nothing is going to change there, except maybe accelerated pillage of the treasury by the bankers and warheads.

More reports today of cattle herds falling in numbers, so they are prepping you for a big price rise there, as with eggs. Why? Is it bird flu or bovine flu? No, just more fake stories to drive the prices way up. Someone realized eggs were underpriced, and no one wants Bill Gates' fake meat, so they figured the best thing to do it multiply egg and meat prices by 5. The billionaires aren't making as much money in the usual ways, since in some ways we are catching on, as with Pharma and banking. Revenues are way off on some of the old standards, so the very rich are trying new things. If they can't fleece you in the old ways, they will find new ways to fleece you, via eggs, cocoa, beef, alcohol, etc. So my guess is they have reinvested all their cousins in those things. Beer is probably the next thing to go through the roof, as they claim the Budweiser clydesdales have the flu or something. Mexico won't be able to keep up with demand for Negra Modelo, Corona, and Dos Equis, due to a shortage of hop pickers.

We are told China now has dancing robots. But it's the same problem with see with Musk and SpaceX: it's CGI. Especially easy to see with the spinning cloths, when they go up and are caught. No way that is actually happening. Compare those spinning cloths to the one being spun by the human dancers. No match.

Next day: Headline reads "Israeli hostages held under Red Cross offices while Red Cross failed to visit." Hmmm. And I wonder why that is? I have commented on this before, since the Red Cross has failed to get involved in this theater from the beginning. They have declined to get involved because they know it is fake. No use visiting a bunch of Mossad actors, is there?

Musk has discovered through DOGE's initial check on Treasury that it was automatically paying all bills delivered to it, even those for known terrorist organizations. Hmmmm. Wouldn't that confirm what I have been telling you all along? The US is funding terrorist organizations like ISIS, Hamas, Hezbollah, and thousands of others, including both Antifa and Proud Boys, because they are all CIA fronts. Operation Chaos, you know.
