

Chinese Spy Base in Cuba?

You cannot be serious!!!

All outlets are leading with this fake news story today on a Chinese spy base in Cuba, confirming what I said yesterday about the mainstream pulling out all stops to misdirect you. Everything is sequels now, and this is just a ridiculous repeat of the Cuban Missile Crisis and Bay of Pigs, which I proved was a fake here. I remind you that we have a huge military base on Cuba. Guantanamo Bay, remember? Where all the fake 911 hijackers are supposedly camped out? Yeah, that place. Well, it was already there in the 1960s, taking up about ¼ of the island. We have owned Cuba from the beginning and all the rest has just been theater. Including Castro, who was always our puppet, installed from Hollywood.

Nothing has changed. Guantanamo is still there, with thousands of our troops. So do you really think China is going to set up a spy base next door?

No, this just proves once again that all our cold and hot wars with China and Russia are manufactured and always have been. Those places aren't our enemies. They too are owned and operated by the Phoenician Navy, and we are all just outposts. The wars and disagreements are created for the headlines, to manufacture news and drive foreign policy. And to justify defense spending. It is all a grand illusion, right out of Orwell's 1984.

The difference is, the fakes have gotten very raw and very obvious, not to say desperate. All subtlety has gone right out the window. All respect for the audience has gone right out the window. They are throwing everything and the kitchen sink at you now in the hopes something will stick. Fake wars, fake spy balloons, fake murders, fake riots, fake aliens, fake indictments, fake convictions, fake trannies, staged train derailments, fake Antifa, fake Proud Boys, fake White House sets, fake stabbings, fake abductions, fake rapes, fake arrests. DHS, CIA, FBI, and Air Force are all competing to create the biggest, sexiest, stupidest events they can, to draw attention away from the real world. Their only hope at this point is to break your mind and your will, because if you focus on the truth the revolution starts today. You remember they have just murdered for profit millions of your fathers and mothers, sons and daughters, wives and husbands, friends and associates, with a fake vaccine. You remember they have split the sexes, destroying all trust between us and trying to turn us all into sexless zombies. They have divided and isolated us, leading to millions more suicides. They have destroyed the housing market, leaving us nowhere to live. They are destroying the food supply, leaving us nothing to eat. They are replacing all jobs with machines, leaving us with no jobs. They are waging a full-spectrum war on us, treating us like an infestation of roaches, putting the equivalent of Raid in our water, air, soil, and food. And I have news for you: voting ain't gonna solve it.
