

Two More Men-are-Pigs Events

by Miles Mathis

February 19, 2025

We will start with the one about the Tennessee man who allegedly beat his newlywed wife to death on their honeymoon in Fiji, at an exclusive island luxury resort. He was just convicted a few weeks ago, though they are still pushing it heavily, both in the mainstream and alternative press. I first saw it today trending at the Gateway Pundit. So a perfect Men-are-Pigs script.

The first clue I saw was that it was a “whirlwind romance”, with her friends knowing nothing about him and never meeting him. Despite the fact they were both in their late 30s. So that doesn't make any sense.

Next clue is that this was a resort for rich people, and most of them are pathological liars. That is how they got rich. We have proof of that already from the photo above. Notice anything strange? These are DINKS with enough money to honeymoon in an expensive luxury resort in Fiji, but their dining room is plastic chairs and a cardboard box for a table?

Next clue was found at Instantcheckmate and Intelius, on a people search on this Bradley Robert Dawson, 41, of Decaturville, TN. Except that in previous locations we find Reston, VA, and Catharpin, VA. So a big CIA flag just went up. Reston is their front porch. Catharpin is also just about five miles from Chantilly. He also has Memphis and Cordova on his list, which could be Millington, NSA Mid-South Navy base. But these Dawsons appear to be from Reston, since his brother Andrew and sister Jennifer are also from there. They link us to someone named Svetlana Kolmakova, which you have to admit sounds suggestive. She is 48, of Reston and also Troy, AL, being related to Mandy Dawson. Mandy may be the mother, since she is 62. She also has McLean and Arlington on her list. Strangely, there are two Bradley Dawsons in this family, one 51 (or 65) and one 41, so the older one may be the father. Or possibly a younger uncle? It is the older one that is married to Kolmakova, according to Intelius. The Bradley Dawson, 65, is also married to Mandy, so not sure what is going on there. There may be three Bradley Dawsons in that family, though the one age 65 does not come up on his own search. He is only on other people's pages. At any rate, it looks like our Bradley's mother Mandy is a Worrall. That may help us later.

But let's return to the Kolmakova. That is so interesting because it is the feminine of Kolmakov, see Alexander Kolmakov, 69, a Russian general who was First Deputy Minister of Defense up until 2010. After that he served two terms as head of DOSAAF, up until 2024. This was Reserves for Armed Forces in Russia, a paramilitary organization. Despite allegedly being concerned with aviation and military sports, DOSAAF has actually been very involved in the military theater in Ukraine. . . so, yes, Kolmakov would be liaising with CIA, linking him to Reston/McLean. Coincidence? You have to be kidding.

What about the murdered bride Christe Chen? Does Chen=Cohen here? Let's find out. It turns out Dawson' attorney is named Iqbal Khan. Does Khan=Kohen? Almost certainly in this case, as you are seeing.

I really love that second picture above. Can you tell me why? A wedding with no guests. What a celebration! No one is there. And what a stylish guy, right? Can't even rent a tux and he wears brown loafers with a blue suit. Brilliant. Just what you would expect from Langley.

Also note the pink tie. What is he telling us with that?

Her style is equal to his, as you see in the first photo. Why not wear that to the “wedding”? Is that her bed in the background? Woof!

There she is at Instantcheckmate, age 39, so the computer doesn't know she is dead. She allegedly died at age 36 three years ago but the computer is still aging her. Couldn't find that death certificate, I guess. And note the other thing the computer doesn't know: that she is married or related to anyone named Dawson. Intelius confirms that, listing some Lius on her mother's side, but again no Dawson. Oh, and what do you know, she has a fort on her list: Fort Edward. You will say it is just the name, it isn't connected to the military. Wrong, it is connected to the Navy Base in Saratoga Springs, about five miles away. All her other locations are military as well, with South Orange probably linking her to nearby Bayonne Navy Base. Tao Chen, 68, would appear to be her father, and besides Germantown, he has also lived in Diamond Bar and Marina del Rey, CA, and NYC. He is listed at LinkedIN as Taosheng Chen, director of HTB Center, St. Jude's Hospital, Germantown. He was previously a Chairman of a section at NIH and before that worked at Bristol Meyers Squibb. He specializes in cell biology/pharmacology.

OHO! So we now see the purpose of this fake news item wasn't just Men-are-Pigs. It was to get your eyes off NIH, Fauci, and vaccines. Didn't see that coming in, but I should have predicted it since we have found it before in these fake events.

OK, event number 2, the pretty young Michigan guy who allegedly drove 730 miles to torch the house of his ex-girlfriend's new boyfriend. No humans died, but the house was destroyed and the two dogs allegedly died. See his photo above. That's Harrison Jones, 21, of Rockford, MI, and it is supposed to be a booking photo, but as usual it fails the test. No board and no side view.

First clue this is fake: He drove 11 hours, so now we just need some 8's. An in-page search at the New York Post finds. . . 13 of them. The story came out on the 18th.

Officials said the only lead in the case was a grainy image of a black sedan from a neighbor's surveillance system.

So how did they trace the kid in two days from that? You can't make an ID or pull a license plate from a grainy night image. And if they did, they would show us. They don't.

Next we find a slew of red-flag names. He drove to Bensalem, PA, so they could get Salem in there. The people in the burned house were named. . . Zalenski. As in Zelensky. The spokesman in this event is Public Safety Director William McVey. As in Tim McVeigh.

They immediately set up a GoFundMe page, and the mother Stacy, 39, also has cancer so give generously! And those poor dogs. The article mentions them about five times, in case you missed it the first four.

The Zalenskis are related to the Fischers, Bieners and Knappenbergers, and Stacy is also a Wendowski. So, Jews, as usual.

The father is Andrew Zalenski, 50, also of Philadelphia (Bensalem is a part of Philly), and we find an Andrew Zalenski fitting that description at LinkedIn as the director of government affairs at Frank DiCicco Consulting Firm, formerly Philadelphia City Council. So if we have the right guy [Intelius lists only one in all of PA, so it must be him], it is sort of odd his house burned down in this event. Also odd he would be living with his wife's parents. Especially since, according to Instantcheckmate, he may not be living with her anymore.

Verified name match:  Andrew Zalenski

As you see, according to that result she is not his first relative, as wife should be, and she doesn't even go by Zalenski anymore. To test that theory, I looked up Sonja Fischer. She is 54, so she is of the right age to be a new wife. You will say she is his sister. But she isn't related to any Zalenskis.

|  Sonja Irene Fischer PHILADELPHIA, PA | 54 | Philadelphia, PA Saint Petersburg, FL East Liverpool, OH Hatfield, PA | Clara Finn Eileen Finn Jason Finn Martin Finn Martin Finn Steven Finn Christoher Fischer Joanna Fischer |

So I looked up Stacy Wendowski at Radaris instead. There, she is no longer related to Andrew Zalenski. Only to stepson Alexander, 22. And if we go back to Instantcheckmate, we see her first relative is Philip Biener, with Andrew listed next to last.

Intelius, which now gives us relationships with many relatives, does not list Andrew as husband of Stacy.

Alexander must be the new online boyfriend, but notice we never find out who the girl was. This whole story revolved around her, but she is a complete ghost. Strange.

I did notice one last sign of the fake, the last sentence of the report:

In addition to the GoFundMe, a family member also started a fundraiser with the Philadelphia Animal Welfare Society to honor their [the two dogs] memory. A PAWS spokesperson told FOX 29 they plan to create a plaque to dedicate one of their kennels to Trey and Jett for their heroism.

Cue violins. All to generate more money. Fundraisers even for the dogs! Oivay. But just ask yourself this: what heroism did those dogs display? Did they help anyone out of the house? Not as far as we know. If they had, they wouldn't have died. Even according to the fake story, all they did is get trapped in some room, and no one thought to open the door for them. Dying isn't heroism, but this is the sort of maudlin crap we get with all these stories for the emotionally retarded. It tells us what they think of us. We are just a herd of dopey cows to be milked, bilked, and butchered.

Added next day: I forgot to fully exploit that link to Frank DiCicco, 78, Andrew Zalenski's current boss. He was a city councillor for Philly for 16 years, and of course he has the same name as Gambino crime underboss Frank DeCicco of New York—John Gotti's #2—though they will of course deny there is any relation to our Frank DiCicco. Frankie DeCicco was allegedly killed by the Luccheses in 1986 at age 50, so he would be 90 now.

The Diocese of Brooklyn denied DeCicco a Mass before the burial, saying it should be delayed for the sake of the DeCicco family and to honor "the solemnity of the occasion".[19]

That's what it says at Wiki. No, the Diocese denied him a mass because he wasn't dead. But regardless, that sentence makes no sense. How is denying a mass honoring the family or adding to the solemnity?

Gotti and DeCicco and all those bozos were just more Mafia actors set up by FBI as a make-work project: same thing the FBI had been doing since the 1920s, as I have shown you over and over. Like the Godfather and the Sopranos it was just more Hollywood bullshit, created not only to raid the treasury but to make you think these low-class guys in loud suits were running everything behind the scenes through the Teamsters or something, when it was actually super-rich bankers running everything—as we now know. Even those who know nothing about my Phoenician Navy now know the world has always been run by billionaire and trillionaire families, not by Sicilian lowlifes coming up from poverty or Colombian lowlifes running the drug scene.

There's a clue on Frankie DeCicco's Wiki page, though I would bet I am the only one who ever saw it. His place of burial is given as the Moravian Cemetery, and I remind you we have seen that name over and over in my papers. Moravia is one of the centers of neo-Phoenician scheming, along with Bohemia. It points us directly at the Jewish/Phoenician angle here. It is where the Vanderbilts are buried, and the Scorseses also have a big plot there. The Cemetery is supposed to be Protestant, but it is full of crypto-Catholic mafia families. . . meaning, they are really Jewish. The Moravians were always crypto-Jewish, all the way back to Jan Hus.

That's Hus, but since I outed him all the mainstream sites have done their best to hide that painting of him, including Wikipedia, which now leads with this instead:

Wow, they really carved down that nose, didn't they? For more on this, consult my long paper on Ben Franklin.

I also remind you that DeCicco's wife was a Suriani. Remember Valentina Suriani of the fake Son of Sam murders? I outed them as fake in my Unabomber paper. She and her boyfriend Alexander Esau were allegedly shot by David Berkowitz for no reason.

Except that they weren't. That photo is a fake and they just went into CIA if they ever existed at all. Suriani is another Italian/Jewish name, originally Soriano. Esau is also Jewish, of course, as is Berkowitz.

The point of that was to ease you into the idea DiCicco of Philly and DeCicco of New York ARE related. For the big link, see Gloria Vanderbilt, of that family that we just saw dominating the Moravian Cemetery. You may know she married a Cooper, being the mother of Anderson Cooper, but she married four times, her first husband being Hollywood agent and fake mobster Pat DiCicco, spelled with the "i" as you see. He was from New York, not Philly. They don't link Pat DiCicco, New York mobster, to Frankie DeCicco, New York mobster, but you should. You should assume they are closely related until proven otherwise. Pat DiCicco was linked to Lucky Luciano, of the Genovese crime family. Luciano is sold as Italian, but his real name was Lucania, which is Jewish. That's why he was tight with Meyer Lansky. Plus, they were both just short Jewish actors.

At any rate, the mainstream admits the Gambinos and Genoveses were closely tied.

But back to Gloria Vanderbilt. You can be sure Pat DiCicco was Jewish, not only because he was a Hollywood agent and FBI actor but because all four of Vanderbilt's husbands were Jewish. Her second and third husbands were Leopold Stokowski and Sidney Lumet, obviously Jewish; and the Coopers were also Jewish, being Boykins, Flowers, Greys, Lathams, Campbells, and Leighs (Levis). So you may want to ask yourself why a Vanderbilt married four Jewish men. The answer may come to you.

It may also help if you know that Pat DiCicco's mother was Ida Zalon Jacobsen. Still think he wasn't Jewish?

And, as it turns out, our Frank DiCicco of Philly in this current story is from. . . New York.

That's him at Intelius. These DiCiccos of Philly are also related to Deblasis, Kraemer, and Segalla. So I would say it is no accident we found him just under the first layer of this house-burning story. Something is going on here, and as with the other fake story, it may not just be Men-are-Pigs. That house may have needed to be torched for other reasons. Which means the dogs were not harmed.

I had to end on some good news.

Added last minute: I had finished this and it was already in the can when I went to my updates page to wind down. I often read my old papers at the end of the night to entertain myself, since it is better than watching cat videos at Youtube. For some reason I clicked on my Fentanyl paper of December 2022. I recommend you do the same, skipping ahead to page 5. There we find the name Dawson. I remind you of our first guy, Bradley Dawson, above. The guy with brown loafers and blue suit. Yeah, that guy. Pink tie. Anyway, in the Fentanyl paper I am linking Kanye West to Alex Jones at the end using the genealogies. I show that Kanye is an Eccles through his white grandmother. Then I say this

To start with, you may be interested to know the Eccles are still viscounts to this day, living in London and Boston, related to the Dawsons, Ryans, Zinovieffs, Heber-Percys and Yarrows. Through the Zinovieffs, we link to the Princess Dolgoruky and the Skipwith baronets. We just saw the Skipwiths in my last paper on Jimmy Wales. He is also a cousin of these Skipwiths. Small world, eh? We have also seen the Dolgorukys in several papers, since they are close cousins of the Romanovs. Helena Blavatsky was a Dolgoruky. Through the Percys we link to those Dukes of Northumberland. But if we stick to Kanye's published lineage, we find Daniel Eccles' mother being a Kerr, another big peerage name. These Eccles were also Montgomerys. So although Geni is not providing short bios for these prominent people as it should, we know we are not looking at commoners. These Eccles of Shannock and Kildonan were marrying people like Isaac Simon, obviously Jewish, who married Jean Black in 1741, daughter of Robert Gordon, 12th lord of Hallhead, son-in-law of Janet Middleton. So we have already found Kanye linked to peers in at least two lines.

So now we know why and how Bradley Dawson is related to General Kolmakov. It is because the Kolmakovs are related to these other Russian families, like the Zinovieffs, the Dolgorukys, and the Romanovs. Indicating Bradley Dawson comes from the Dawson baronets. Which, yes, means he is another cousin of Kanye. And remember above, where I showed you Dawson's mother was a Worrall. Well, the Worralls are related to the royal Stuarts, specifically the Stuart baronets who come from the Seneschal of Scotland. Also related to the Booths and Mountforts, and through the Booths to the Breretons. Also to the Balls, linking us to George Washington.

And with a bit more help from LinkedIN, we finally find his father, Brad Dawson, Sr., 65, of Catharpin, VA. He was an executive director at George Mason University and wrote The Disruptive Warrior: the Hero's Journey to Corporate Actualization. No, I didn't make that up. Are you sick yet?

That may be the most stomach-churning subtitle I have ever seen. He also worked for KPMG [Peat Marwick] and PriceWaterhouse. Funny the mainstream stories don't give us that link.
