

Fake Ford Assassinations

Taking a break from all the stories coming out of LA, let's go back to finish off the Presidential assassinations and attempts. This ties us back to the events of last year, since of course we saw several fake attempts on Trump and may see more in the near future. I have already proved to you that all four Presidential assassinations were fake. And when covering Manson I hit Ford assassination attempt number one by Squeaky Fromme. But there is another lesser known attempt that was higher profile at the time, but that they have since decided to memory-hole, for what will become obvious reasons.

That is the attempt by Sara Jane Moore in 1975. Except that she wasn't Sara Jane Moore, she was Sara Jane Kahn, Jewish, and she came out of the army. Her ex-husband just happened to be a Hollywood executive. And they admit she was an FBI informant and that she had been arrested the day before on an illegal handgun charge. They confiscated her .44 Bulldog and ammunition and let her go. As you do.

Just four months before the event she was still infiltrating leftist groups for the FBI, but the press overlooked that, calling her an accountant who had grown up poor in West Virginia. The usual sob story fake-out.

She called Secret Service five times the morning of the event, but they spun that when it came out as more proof she was crazy. Instead of seeing it for what it was: checking in for script updates.

She pled guilty against the advice of her public defender, like Fromme declining to offer any defense. Convenient, eh?

In that last link, we are told Kahn served her sentence in the same prison as Fromme in West Virginia. Why would they be in West Virginia, when both attempts were in Sacramento and San Francisco? But Wikipedia now says Kahn served her term in Dublin, California.

Moore pleaded guilty^[19] to attempted assassination and was sentenced to life in prison.^{[20][21]} At her sentencing hearing Moore stated: "Am I sorry I tried? Yes and no. Yes, because it accomplished little except to throw away the rest of my life. And, no, I'm not sorry I tried, because at the time it seemed a correct expression of my anger."^[22] She served her term at the federal women's prison in Dublin, California, where she worked in the UNICOR prison labor program for $1.25 per hour as the Lead Inmate Operating Accountant.^{[12][23]} Moore had the Federal Bureau of Prisons register number 04851-180.^[24]

No continuity, as usual. But we now see that her prison number doesn't just have aces and eights once, it has them twice. Twice as nice.

There she is in prison, since of course everyone who tries to kill the President gets their own desk, two chairs, and double windows. They also get nice gold cardigan sweaters and perms every week. And of course all camera crews from mainstream media get all access to prisoners: why wouldn't they!

Moore was not her husband's name, it was (allegedly) her mother's name, and she didn't take it until they needed to hide that surname Kahn. And why would they need to hide it? Because Kahn=Kohen. We see one of them in almost every fraud I dig out. They tried to sell her as Catholic turned Jewish later, but as a Kahn we can be sure she was born Jewish.

We are told she had a fascination with Patty Hearst, again pegging this as fake, since the Hearst event was also faked. If we didn't know this Kahn event was fake, we could prove it just from the link to Hearst. Also notice all the numerology on her mugshot. Sevens for a change, instead of eights, but look more closely: below we see the number 180, so we do get the aces and eights as well. I don't know what the sevens indicate, but you can be sure it was no accident they got four in there.

My guess is they tried again with Kahn because Fromme's event mostly failed. There was no bullet in the chamber when she pointed the gun at Ford, so no shot was fired. For that reason almost no one took the event seriously, even those that believed it was real and not staged. They staged it to generate sympathy and support for Ford, but when that failed they tried again, this time with orders to make it look more real. They brought in this chick from the Army who at least knew how to hold a gun, fired a couple of blanks to create noise, and planted a bullet in the wall behind Ford. It still didn't work, since many people became aware of all the anomalies in the event, only a few of which I have shown you so far. So they buried it. They didn't delete it from history, but it isn't promoted anymore. You probably haven't ever heard about it.

So, did Ford quit making public appearances or travel in a Pope-mobile or even increase his security after these two formidable attempts, by ladies now serving fake life-sentences? Nope, he of course continued on as before, and the press explained it as his incredible bravery in the face of opposition.

Kahn is still alive, now being 94. She was allegedly paroled in 2007, a year after Ford died, though in truth she was never in jail. She is not listed at Instantcheckmate as either Sara Kahn or Sara Moore, in CA, WV, or any other state. According to the big computer no one named Sara Moore or Kahn was at that jail in Dublin, CA. The closest match we get nationwide is Sally J. Moore, 94, of San Francisco, otherwise scrubbed of locations and relatives. Her father Olaf Kahn is also hard to find, since no Olaf Kahn related to Ruth or Sara comes up. We do find an Olaf Kahn related to a Ruthann Goldhagen, 85, but he is not from Charleston, so they lied about her place of birth as well as her name. And it is obvious why: the name Goldhagen would prove both her parents were Jewish, making it impossible she was born Catholic. Olaf is from Cincinnati and Independence, KY. I found a Maj. Olaf Kahn II, Special Forces, in an interview at the Library of Congress, so that fits this event like a glove. He can't still be alive, but he has no page at Findagrave and no obituary listed. I did make one other possible link: a Michael Kahn of Oklahoma City, of an age to be her nephew, and he came out of West Point and worked for Halliburton and Honeywell. He has a bunch of military towns on his list, like Huntsville and Colorado Springs. So it looks like Sara Kahn's whole family was military.
