

Penny for your Thoughts?

Yeah, it's Fake

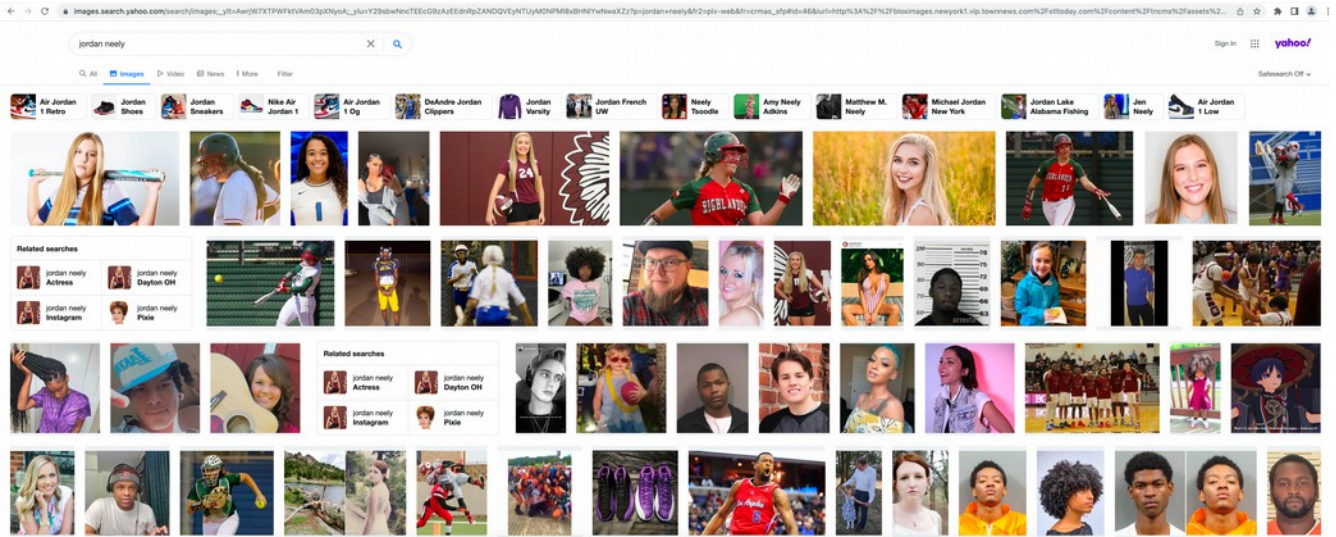

First published May 14, 2023

Just my opinion, as usual

This one is so easy you could do it in your sleep. Marine veteran Daniel Penny allegedly choked out violent homeless man Jordan Neely on an F-train in New York City, and Neely allegedly died. Penny is now being prosecuted for manslaughter. His prosecutor is Alvin Bragg, the same guy prosecuting Trump in that other fake case for paying hush money to a porn star. Hard to believe anyone is buying that one, since you can tell it is fake after seven words: “paying hush money to a porn star”. Yeah.

With this Penny event, you can tell even before the first word. You can tell just from the photos. So, let's see, one guy with Hollywood good looks kills a second guy with Hollywood good looks on the F-train? That sounds believable, right? Happens all the time. Penny looks like someone out of an old Errol Flynn movie. Both of them are too good looking to believe. Then add to that that Penny is a Marine and Neely is a Michael Jackson impersonator. Neely is supposed to be on a top-50 list of New York's most at-risk homeless people. So that is convenient, right? They keep lists like that.

Then we find thousands of people paid to march and scream for justice for Neely, most of them white. But that isn't suspicious. They couldn't have been hired by CIA, like all the other fake activists on the street over the past three years. Then we have the curious search results on Neely. I just searched on Jordan Neely at Yahoo, then went to photos.

Hmmm. Where is he? He leads all searches, but we find no images of him on a major search engine. What could it mean? He isn't even as famous as some highschool chicks.

If we scroll down, we find an old pic of him at the New York Daily News, indicating he has been a Jackson impersonator for years. Except for one thing.

The Daily News doesn't want to show us that page.

That's another old pic of Jordan, again not looking like a poor boy on the streets. Looking like a rich actor with make-up and $300 hair.

At Instantcheckmate we find three Jordan Neelys of New York City, but none of them are 30 and none are linked to his mother Christie.

None linked to Bayonne, NJ, given in current stories as his home he shared with his mother. We do find him linked to Los Angeles, again confirming he is an actor. His mother was allegedly killed by golf caddy Shawn Southerland, 65, in 2007. We find no Elizabeth Neely related to Jordan or William in New York or New Jersey, but we do find one in California, age 57, aka White. She just happens to have Studio City and Beverly Hills on her list.

I found Christie Neely of New Jersey and New York, but she isn't related to her son Jordan. Related only to Carolyn, Christopher, Clara, Clarence, Tara, Joi, and Taliah. Already a strange list of names. Christie is aka Christina and Tina. Christopher, 44, is also Charles. Taliah, 39, is also Charles, so it looks like we have a tranny here.

I did find a Shawn Southerland of Bayonne, but he is listed as 61, which would mean he died four years ago, so no use looking him up in jail. But we can look for an obituary or other death notice for Christie in 2007. This is the only one I found, and it is not dated 2007. But it tells us a day of death: April 1, 2007. April Fool! Other than that, no record of death at Findagrave or any other site.

Here's another problem: They tell us Daniel Penny was living in Queens, but that is false. His current address is West Islip, which is way out on Long Island. So what was he doing riding the F-train? He is not poor. He lives right on the harbor, on Secatogue Lane E. These people have their own boat slips. The house is valued at over $1 million. Plus, how can he be an ex-Marine at age 24? Almost no one gets through their first term that young, so he must be acting Marine, on assignment. In support of that, we find contradictions in his history at the New York Post, where it says he dropped out of college to backpack through central America. But in previous paragraphs it says he entered the Marines right out of highschool, which is why he finished his 4-year term in 2021 at age 22. I don't see any room for college there. This is also a contradiction: it says that while he was in the Marines as a squad leader on two deployments, he realized what he was passionate about. But in the next sentence we are told he was discharged and was aiming for a bartending gig in Manhattan. No continuity there. If he was passionate about leading teams in the Marines, why did he quit to pursue bartending?

The Pennys of Islip are related to the Hamptons and Baldwins. Daniel's mother is Gina Flaim and his father is Stephen L Penny. His aunt appears to be Justine Baldwin, nee Penny, and she has Fairfax Station, VA, on her locations list, suggesting CIA.

Jordan Neely's father is given as Andre Zachery, 59, but his relatives list has been scrubbed. He is related to no one, according to the big computers.

Al Sharpton gave the eulogy at the fake funeral, again proving this was staged. Sharpton's entire life has been staged by the CIA. He wouldn't know where to eat breakfast without staging by the spooks.

The choke-out just happened to be filmed on the F-train by a freelance journalist and filmmaker, who just happened to be there when it happened. Well, that was fortunate. Not staged at all. This journalist, Juan Alberto Vasquez/Vazquez, admits his story doesn't add up. He was allegedly heading to Yonkers, and says he moved cars to get to the front, to be closer to the stairs when he transferred. One problem: those stairs are closest to the rear car, and he admits that. So he is telling you his story is false while telling it. He also admits he was a reporter at Milenio in Mexico for 20 years, so he is not some small-time nobody, filming with a cellphone for his personal blog. The video is not on a handheld phone, and Vazquez continues filming after everyone else has left the train. Milenio is a huge newspaper, published in 11 cities and owned by Grupo Multimedios, which goes back to 1933.

So it is obvious this whole thing was staged by military intel. The usual. But why? Two words: race wars. They have been pushing these race wars hard for the past three years, to steer you away from the vaccine genocide and prevent alliances against them.
