

The Pro-Palestinian Campus Protests are being Staged by the CIA

by Miles Mathis

First published April 24, 2024

Added April 26: [The CIA is now admitting the protests are manufactured, though they are blaming Soros for it. CIA is claiming Soros is paying full-time “fellows” of his Institute to lead these fake protests. Kinda of strange, isn't it, since Soros is a Jew himself, real name Schwartz. Why would he be funding anti-Israel protests? If you don't already know, keep reading.]

This is so obvious. Why do you think most of them are in masks? To hide the fact that they are outside provocateurs over 25. Not students. The mainstream is even admitting that, conceding that although Harvard Yard and other quads were restricted to students-only, they have allegedly been powerless to keep out “invaders storming the campus”. Really? The only people they are powerless to keep out are CIA, since CIA has a free pass everywhere. They and their college theatrical performers outrank all campus police, city police, and state troopers.

We know this is CIA in another way: they are trying to blame the college invasion on China. Congress is asking IRS to investigate Chinese funding of anti-Israel protests. You have to laugh. Half the things CIA does they blame on China or Russia and the other half they blame on right-wing terrorists. As I have told you many times, events in the US don't need to be faked by China, Russia, Israel, Iran or anyone else. With millions of agents with nothing better to do, we are fully capable of faking our own events.

You should ask yourself, when did college students get so militant? We saw nary a peep to protest mask restrictions during Covid or vaccine requirements afterwards—especially at places like Columbia and Harvard—though those things affected these students personally and in major ways, sometimes killing them. But this dubious war in the Middle East is reason for them to skip all classes and live in tents on the quad? To get worked up and scream into the cameras? To risk getting expelled? To fight cops and get arrested? Doesn't really add up, does it? We are supposed to believe that college students went overnight from quiet, complacent, and obedient to rowdy and rebellious, all due to solidarity with Palestine? You may believe it, but I don't.

I also point out these protests began at and are still centered at Harvard, Columbia, and places like that. Campuses that are already known as CIA hangouts. Are there really enough militant Muslims on these campuses to drive these protests? I doubt it.

I can see that this is all manufactured to move middle America the other way, deeper into the arms of Israel. All so that these fake students can get lots of bad press and be called anti-Semites by the mainstream press, justifying a crack-down. They have already been called terrorist sympathizers, or even terrorists themselves. "Public opinion" will continue to be manufactured against them, causing your average Joe and Jane to either embrace Israel or keep quiet. It will likely lead to new laws or "mandates" being passed, forbidding all criticism of Israel and Jews (including bankers) as hate speech. It won't matter that those fake laws are wildly unConstitutional, since it will take several years for the Supreme Court to strike them down. In the meantime CIA will have done what it was ordered to do: blackwash all opposition as malcontents, conspiracy theorists, and loudmouth kids. Same thing they did in the 1960s and 70s when they blackwashed all government opposition as dirty smelly hippies and spoiled youth.

Then there is this:

Students and press look on as Speaker of the House Mike Johnson, R-La., speaks to the media on the Lower Library steps on Columbia University's campus in New York, on Wednesday, April 24, 2024

That subtext sort of proves my point, doesn't it? That is one of the photos they are leading with in stories today. Johnson isn't trying to talk down a mass protest, is he? No, he is speaking to. . . the media. It's a media event, with just a few students "looking on". Even without the subtext, you can tell that at a glance. Almost everyone there is media, with just a couple of lines of students in the back. Like everything else, this is all manufactured. Look at the empty bleachers! I bet you missed that. Reminds us of the empty hospitals and emergency tents and ambulances during Covid, doesn't it?

What about this:

Does that look like an organic protest? Everyone just happened to wear the same shirt? Those weren't produced at Langley printing?

How staged does that look? "OK, everyone down in the front row, so we can get the shot! Jewish girl with the Arafat turban, be sure you are between the camera and the arrestee—the only guy in Brooklyn wearing a tan shirt so he stands out!" And can someone tell me why that cop is wearing a mask? He must have an IMDb identity.

Plus, notice in that last event we have Jews protesting for Palestine. So it is Jews on both sides of these fake protests, and in this case they admit it. That should seem kinda curious to you. It is always the Jews pretending to fight each other in these theatricals, to create distractions and divisions, but now they cleverly admit it. They know that some will recognize these actors as Jews, so they just admit it, taking you another turn down the rabbit hole. You are supposed to think, “Oh, these are the Jews with a conscience, who don't think Israel should be taking Palestine.” But as I am showing you, that isn't what is going on here. Like everything else going on right now, this is another big manufactured eyes-off event: eyes off the vaccine genocide. These people are trying to prevent their cousins in Big Pharma from getting lynched for crimes against humanity, so that is job one. In this case division is a secondary matter. Distraction is the main thesis.

And, as it turns out, Soros and CIA are also funding these Jewish peace groups. That came out in the news today as well. You will say, “What? It is either the CIA or Soros, can't be both.” Yes it can, because this is the usual mindscrew. After my paper came out, CIA is using Soros to get eyes off them in an emergency, but they are one and the same. As with the Forbes' involvement in the Modern Art project I blew years ago, this Soros funding is mostly a feint. Soros is probably a CIA front himself, with CIA funneling your taxdollars through Soros to pay for this. The money he is supposedly giving these students—and all other money he is allegedly donating to causes—isn't his own. As usual, it is YOURS. You are paying for this. In this case that is just my opinion, but in previous cases like Forbes it was later admitted. It is because I know of these previous cases that I can guess what is going on here. And if my guess is right, he is probably getting tax credits for this “philanthropy” at the same time, dodging taxes. The super rich have also been doing that for centuries, so it would be par for the course. This is the way the world works.

For more proof, see these interviews with NYU “students” protesting in New York. They don't even know why they are there and are obviously just actors paid to be on the streets with pre-fab signage. And when the fake police arrested the fake protestors, guess how many they arrested? 133. You could have predicted it, right?

These protests serve a tertiary purpose, that being to stall the real revolution by creating a fake one. Some young people will be drawn into these protests, thinking they are real and are a viable means of resistance. But since they are only joining a vaudeville act, it will all be for nought. And when this fake revolution inevitably fizzles, it will be like throwing a bucket of cold water on the American public. Reality will once again be pre-empted by fiction.

BTW, it looks like Jerry Seinfeld has been reading me, since he recently said “everything is fake”.

“Audiences are now flocking to stand-up because it's something you can't fake. It's like platform diving. You could say you're a platform diver, but in two seconds we can see if you are or you aren't. That's what people like about stand-up. They can trust it. Everything else is fake,” he added.

Strangely, that line has been censored on most outlets. His comments on the movie industry being “over” are being widely reported, and that is where this comes from, but MSN neglects to tell you he said everything is fake. So does the Guardian. On the first page of a search on this, so does Yahoo, Complex, 10Play, and Reddit. Reddit took it down completely.

