

The Fake Sarah Lawrence Sex Cult

by Miles Mathis

First written September 21, 2023

Fourth paper of the day, though I only started it before I got sleepy. I tripped across this event when I was following a scent on Rahm Emanuel. Didn't know about it until today. Emanuel, "tough guy" Chief of Staff for Obama and mayor of Chicago, got his start at Sarah Lawrence College in Yonkers. Did you know that? I didn't. He won a scholarship to study ballet at the Joffrey, but went to SLC instead. In Chicago they called him "tiny dancer". He's only about 5'5" barefoot. Considerably taller than Fauci, but quite small. In his last term as mayor he was polling well below 20%. So . . . you have to laugh.

Why? Because Sarah Lawrence used to be all-girls. It is now coed, but has a five-to-one ratio of women to men, and most men at Sarah Lawrence are gay. It is admitted. Maybe Rahm was at Sarah Lawrence to meet girls, but if so that also wouldn't work, since they are all lesbians. Maybe he didn't know that. To be honest, I didn't know that until today, so it is possible to be that naive or out of the loop. But since Rahm is a big insider and always has been, coming out of New Trier High School (that we have already outed as a big spook feeder), it is unlikely he was as sheltered regarding such matters as I was.

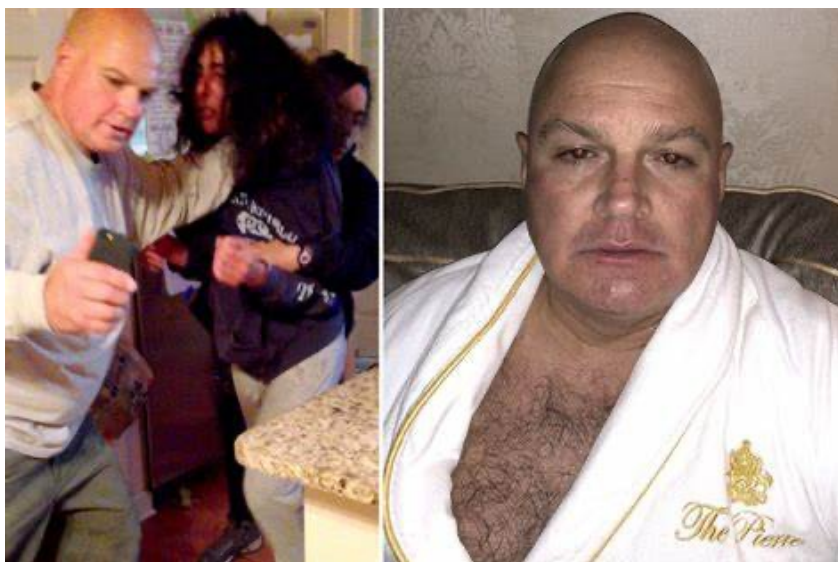

What else do we notice from that pic under title? One of those guys is wearing his wedding ring on the wrong hand. And Emanuel is missing part of his middle finger. Why? We are told he lost it to a meat slicer while working at Arby's in high school, but that sounds like a cover story. Guys like Rahm don't work at Arby's. And those slicers have guards, making it pretty much impossible to lose a finger in there. So is this some sort of Jewish mob thing? Could be.

But let's move on. Last February, *Vanity Fair* published a long article on the Sarah Lawrence Sex Cult, pushing Hulu's 3-part docuseries on it called Stolen Youth. Poignant title, right? Well . . . no, since this is another fake like the NXIVM thing and hundreds of others we have unwound. Some psychopath allegedly moved into his daughter's on-campus housing and began manipulating the girls there. He used his “boyish charming facade” to buffalo his targets. One problem already:

That's Larry Ray, and as you see he does not have a boyish charming facade and never did. He was 52 when the crime began, so he didn't even look that good.

Wow, so boyishly charming! And besides, he is at a lesbian college and lesbians are not charmed by any guys, even less by short fat bald scumsuckers like that dude. Vanity Fair leads with that photo to test you I guess, since if you will buy the idea that that guy charmed a bunch of lesbians at Sarah Lawrence, you will believe anything. You aren't just naive, you are brain-damaged.

Sarah Lawrence now claims they didn't know he was living in their housing, but do you really believe someone's 52-year-old father could be living on campus and could fly under the radar for years, while running prostitution rings? Get real. What was he doing, dressing in drag like Bosom Buddies? I bet that guy made a lovely coed. Fit in seamlessly.

Ray began his crimes in 2010, but wasn't caught until 2020, at age 62. He was allegedly convicted in 2022 and sentenced to 60 years for extortion, sex trafficking, and racketeering.

In March of 2022 the New York Post reported that Ray had suffered a seizure while in court. That is the pic that was published with the story. Again, you have to laugh. What a great actor, eh? That isn't even the same guy. It is someone larger and younger with whiter skin. And why is the fire department loading him onto the ambulance? Are his legs also on fire? Was he stuck up in a tree with a cat? In that story, we find that Ray's attorney was Marne Lenox and his judge was Lewis Liman. The laughs won't quit coming. I guess the court reporter and EMTs were also Jewish.

What is most strange is that the director of the Hulu documentary, Zachary Zenor Heinzerling [Jew alert], claims to have extensive footage of the crimes. We get to see them. They are obviously staged, but the question is who filmed this and why? Why would Ray allow himself to be filmed doing all these awful things? He just wanted to get caught? I will tell you a little secret: criminals do not film themselves committing crimes and then give the footage to budding directors, for obvious reasons. This thing can't be more obviously a production of Langley film school.

That's Heinzerling with a couple of his buddies from the tribe. Yes, Heinzerling looks Aryan, but don't let that fool you. His bios all scrub his parents, and even his listing in the people searches is scrubbed. I couldn't find his mother's maiden name, but I am guessing something like Cohen. The Heinzerlings of New York and Houston are related to the Maxwells and Ackerlys, but that is about all I could dig up on short notice there. However, his middle name Zenor is a big clue, since it links us back to Austrian nobility in Tyrol and Styria, possibly linking us to Schwarzenegger. In the US, the Zenors link us to the Vorhees, Engles, Boones, Wagners, and Willetts. The Willetts link us to the Manson event, since Sharon Tate's mother was a Willett. Regardless, I don't trust this guy any further than I can throw him, and you are about to see why.

That is what came up for my search on Lawrence Ray, who Wiki admits was born Lawrence Greco. As you see, right age and location, wrong gender. Not linked to his daughter, Talia Ray. No alias of Lawrence Ray. No Lawrence Ray listed of that age and location and no indication Lawrence Ray is the same as Lawrence Greco. Talia links us to a Gordon Thompson Ray, 95, of NC, NV (Las Vegas), NJ, NY, and FL. Also Ingrid Ray, who links us to Elsa Penzin and Larry Mansfield. The Padrevitos link us to the Saccomannos of NJ and Las Vegas, including John P. Saccomanno, listed as both 73 and 86. The Saccomannos of New Jersey and New York are bigwigs at Merck, New York Life, and Lockheed Martin.

So let's go back to Vanity Fair and see if they can help us figure this out. The main victim in Stolen Youth is Claudia Drury, so let's look her up. Instantcheckmate has her listed as 32 in New York, but no location of Yonkers. She is also listed for St. Petersburg, FL, which may be our easy link to military intelligence here. Her mother is Christian Potter Drury of New York, Providence, St. Petersburg, Pasadena, Tucson, and Hartford, and we find her in the news in 2017, before this whole story hit the presses. Turns out she was Senior Art Director at the Wall Street Journal. What are the odds? As such she worked for and "buted heads with" Rupert Murdoch. We are told that in 2015 she retired, split with her husband Tom and became a painter. We are supposed to believe that this woman who was then 62 was left destitute, with only $9000 in hand and a 26-year-old Volvo wagon. Right.

Christian is an insider, since they admit in that article she is close relative of Allyn Cox, who famously painted the murals in the Capitol rotunda in DC.

See if you can guess who painted what. She should do a group show with Hunter Biden.

In that article they also admit her daughter Claudia was “facing serious health issues” back to 2015. Further digging shows it was back to 2008, when she was a mental patient. Is that why she was tapped for this project? We don't know because the author does not elaborate.

Christian's father is Clarkson Potter, and we find McLean, VA on his locations list, which usually indicates CIA. Her uncle was Spencer Wood Potter, who came out of the Army Medical Research Lab at Ft. Knox. He later became a big real estate broker in Reston, VA, in the 1960s, again indicating CIA connections. His obituary admits he was connected to the New Town Movement communities. So this family came from big wealth, as you would expect. They were not driving 26-year-old Volvos. These Potters of Newport were among the founders of Newport and Warwick, and they have been one of the top families of Rhode Island all along. They later branched out to Ohio, where Thomas Potter ran the Union Pacific Railroad. He married his cousin, a Wood, and we just saw that name. We have also seen Potter Palmer in previous papers, and his mother was a Potter. He was one of the richest men in the midwest, founding Marshall Field.

That was his mansion on Lake Shore Drive in Chicago. Like the Potters were are looking at, Potter Palmer's bio is heavily scrubbed at most places, especially his ancestry.

Claudia's father Tom Drury is the famous novelist, perhaps most well-known for his novel The End of Vandalism, serialized by the New Yorker. He is heavily promoted since he won the Guggenheim Fellowship. That is strictly for Jewish insiders. The strange thing is how well scrubbed his bio is. They don't link him to his wife or now-famous daughter, and his first novel came out in 1994, when he was 38. He got his bachelor's late at age 24 and his MFA seven years later at age 31. Creative writing is not a grueling degree path, so what else was he doing? It begins to look like he is another spook, since there is no chance this main victim in our current fake just happens to be the daughter of two such prominent people. Claudia now claims to have been a prostitute working for Ray seven days a week and making $2.5 million. Yeah, that's believable. But here's the original question again: why would a Sarah Lawrence lesbian want to be a prostitute? Are we supposed to think her Johns were Janes? No, since lesbians aren't into prostitution like straights are, and that isn't the story anyway. So this is all another grand joke, to see how stupid you are.

Thomas Drury is even more scrubbed at Instantcheckmate than his wife, with no parents listed. My guess is they don't want you linking him to other famous Drurys, like novelist Allen Stuart Drury. That is a dead giveaway isn't it? As is this:

Allen Drury won the Pulitzer Prize for fiction in 1960, and yes, his mother was a Stuart, of the royal Stuarts. She was also a Chabot, an Abbott, an Irving, a Newton, and a Churchill. This Drury is not a direct ancestor of Tom Drury, since he had no children. However, Allen's uncle Elliott had a son Robert of Glen Rock. His other uncle Winthrop lived in New York. These people are for some reason scrubbed off his Findagrave page. Winthrop is also scrubbed at Instantcheckmate, with only the dreaded i. My guess is he links us to Tom Drury.

The next thing we learn is that one of the other “survivors” of Ray's prostitution ring was Daniel Levin. Oho, at least I don't have to prove he is Jewish. Another victim is Isabella Pollok, ditto. Isabella's father Rodney died in 2017, and via his obit we find her grandfather's name was Alois Kotzur. His grandmother's name was Pelagia. So we are definitely looking at Phoenicians here.

While filming, director Heinzerling stayed in touch with cult specialist Rachel Bernstein. Yeah, I bet he did. That is our actual link to the NXIVM fake, since Rachel Bernstein also worked on that. In the same paragraph we learn that Heinzerling had met with Ray before he was arrested and charged in 2020. How does that work? Ray gave Heinzerling a long interview to a film documentarian, trying to prove his innocence before he was detained? Really? And you don't think this whole thing was scripted?

Taking links, we find this whole thing started in 2018 when two “reporters” were allegedly tipped off by a Sarah Lawrence alumna of a fishy website. They then wrote a story for New York Magazine. So already we are in lala land. All this came from stuff people saw on a website, not from things they witnessed on the ground in Yonkers. Who were these reporters? Ezra Marcus and James Walsh. Oho, let me guess, more Phoenicians? Ezra Marcus is a slam dunk, and I would guess James Walsh is also Jewish. Think Joe Walsh, John Walsh, etc. A quick search on him finds that New York Magazine hired him full-time around then, in 2019, and he is still there, as their Intelligencer staff writer. Ah, got it. Intelligence. So he's also CIA. We know because in March of this year he was still running interference on the Covid lab leak story, claiming no one knows where it came from. Except that we do know: the US Government paid to create it and released it on purpose. It is known we have been doing gain-of-function research for a long time, making pathogens more deadly. There have been biolabs all over the world doing this for decades. The labs in China were built and funded by us, so it doesn't really matter if they were in China or on the Moon: they were ours. Blaming China is ridiculous. That's like blaming Tokyo or Paris for Disneyworld there. And there is also no doubt they were released on purpose. Agendas have been leaked showing they knew the exact timeline long before it happened, which can only occur if it is planned. Accidents don't happen on a tight schedule, conforming to Agenda2019 requirements. Only someone who thinks this guy Larry Ray was a boyish charmer would believe Covid came from a pangolin in a Chinese wet market.

But back to the 2018 story. Ray wasn't still on campus in 2018, so these fake reporters had to interview people who were there eight years earlier. So I hope you see what that means: there is no evidence any of this actually happened. It is just a lot of hearsay and a story on a website. It would be fabulously easy to manufacture the whole thing. At lawandcrime.com, we find it admitted that Ray was actually "the architect of his own prosecution". He created the website and did the interview with Heizenling, so most of the story comes from him, with some tack-ons from these other actors. That makes sense, right? I guess he also provided the old films, since who else would?

Marcus and Walsh marveled at how Ray created much of the evidence used against him. Prosecutors say that Ray coerced students into false confessions, extensively and compulsively documented in videotapes, audio recordings, and written statements now being used against him in court. It's remarkable seeing how much of this evidence the government is relying on is generated by him, and things he even put online," Marcus noted, adding that Ray appears to be the "architect of his own prosecution here."

Here's another familiar clue thrown in your face:

During opening statements, Ray's defense attorney compared the case to "Alice in Wonderland" and urged the jurors to travel "through the looking glass," viewing the defendant and the students as a group of "storytellers" rather than victims and participants in a criminal enterprise.

We have seen that before, haven't we, since it is admitted CIA likes to use Alice in Wonderland in its projects. It is one of their top calling cards, a kind of WE ARE HERE message. Then we find this:

"You start looking into Larry's background, and it's like, you go down all of these increasingly Byzantine relationships he had with genuinely important people, for reasons that are not clear," Marcus noted. "What was he doing in Russia? How did he meet all of these powerful generals?" In the 1990s, Ray used to be close friends with ex-New York City Police Commissioner Bernie Kerik and was best man at his wedding. That relationship fell apart after Ray's prosecution in a mafia-linked securities fraud scheme. Ray later served as an informant against Kerik that in a federal criminal prosecution sidelined the ex-NYPD chief's career.

So they admit Ray was already a government informant and narc in the 1990s, but we are supposed to believe he isn't an agent and actor in this current stageplay? C'mon!

And it just keeps going in that article at lawandcrime.com:

"I mean, literally, you know, Robert De Niro wanted to get on the phone and talk about Larry Ray," Walsh marveled. "They only met once, and it was 20-something years ago, and yet something about Larry Ray stuck in his head. So, it was a lot of phone calls, a lot of door knocking, and a lot of people saying, 'I think he knew this general because he sat next to him on a plane. I think he knew Pavel Palazhchenko, Mikhail Gorbachev's interpreter, because he met him here through this person.'"

Photographs show Ray with Kerik, Gorbachev, then-New York City Mayor Rudy Giuliani, and other notables, most of them from the 1990s, predating Ray's initial securities fraud prosecution. These relationships predated Ray meeting the Sarah Lawrence students through his daughter Talia Ray in 2010.

What they don't explain is where the name Ray came from. His real name is Greco, as they admit, so how could his daughter be named Ray? If Ray is his codename or alias taken later, his daughter could not have it. She should be Talia Greco.

We get no answers on this or anything else from Vanity Fair, New York Magazine, or lawandcrime.com. All the stories are mist, with almost no real information. Just a lot of noodling.

At the DailyMail.uk, we find equally misty reports, with a lot of sensational claims but no real evidence of anything. We are shown stills from these alleged films, but they are completely tame. We see nothing going on. Here is the photo of Daniel Levin they have decided to lead with:

Notice that is labeled government exhibit 1808. So it just happens to be aces and eights. And I recognize that statue as the famous Peter Pan statue in Hyde Park in London. So they are signaling us again. Peter Pan is another CIA marker, like Alice in Wonderland and Wizard of OZ. Those are their three favorite signals. Otherwise, what does Peter Pan have to do with this Sarah Lawrence event, and why would that photo be government evidence?

We also have Claudia Drury, the main fake whore, pictured in front of the Peter Pan statue.

Why does her jacket look military?

We do find named another player in this play: one of Ray's clients Randy Levinson. So we have both a Levin and a Levinson. They forgot to hire any Gentiles for this production, as usual. This is just pathetic, how bad it is.

So what exactly did Lawrence Ray do? People magazine tells us:

He recorded their sexual interactions, which he then used to blackmail them, threatening to send to their parents and post online if they didn't do what he said. He made the girls have sex with strangers, telling them it would help with their past traumas of being sexually abused.

"He did this with everyone. He rewrote everyone's childhood, and he said all kinds of horrible things happened to me. He had me saying that my dad had prostituted me, and that I was sexually abused by him. All sorts of horrible things that just were not true," Rosario says.

Right. I remind you these were Sarah Lawrence girls, rich pampered little Jewish lesbian girls, most of them from New York, and this was 2010, not 1960. How do you "make" these girls do anything? You know as well as I do that you can't make young women do anything now, especially if you are a man. You can't make them wear a different shade of lipstick, much less have sex with strangers or be recorded in sex by some creepy old bald guy for no reason. This Rosario wasn't a Sarah Lawrence chick, but she was even smarter and more privileged, having already graduated from Harvard and Columbia medical school. She was already 27 and doing her residency in LA, going into forensic psychiatry. Hit brakes, burn rubber, scream to a halt. Did you get that? She was in forensic psychiatry. What an amazing coincidence! A forensic psychiatrist gets involved with a CIA agent pretending to be a psychopath, and he ends up making the cover of Vanity Fair, giving more work to forensic psychiatrists everywhere!

That's her at the time. We are told she found that old fat bald guy very attractive. Right. As a forensic psychiatrist, she couldn't figure any of this out. When he started filming kids having sex, she couldn't figure out something was wrong.

Her brother Santos is also a part of this charade, and we find Fort Lee, NJ, on his list, which is a red flag. Fort Lee is the original Hollywood and it is still part of the scene. Their father Santos Sr. is also from Fort Lee. Amazingly, we find a Santos Rosario, of the right age and locations at LinkedIn, and he just happens to be Air Force. He is a Jr. and so is our Santos. He is an emergency management specialist in Lancaster, CA. That's Edwards AFB, just north of LA.

Not pictured are this Santos Rosario's interests, which include. . . The Wall Street Journal, where Claudia Drury's mother worked as art director for many years! Just another coincidence. Santos also taps CNN as his top interest. CNN, which pushed this story perhaps harder than anyone. Santos also lists David Sable as his top voice. Who is David Sable? He is a “global influencer” spook out of Young and Rubicam until 2019, so we have that familiar link here. They are pretty much the same as Burson-Marsteller, where Sable was Senior Vice President until 1988. You couldn't ask for a bigger red flag in the bio of Santos Rosario.

Our Santos in this event has LA on his list, just like his sister. So are there two Santos Rosarios of the same general age, both from the environs of LA? Well, we can check that, too, since we just search on it at Instantcheckmate, specifying California instead of New York. There ARE two, ages 32 and 38, with our Santos allegedly 32.

We know the older Santos' profile isn't complete, since LinkedIN admits he has also lived in Maryland, going to UMGC. But we have yet another “coincidence”, since they both also have the Bronx on their lists. So, let's add up all the coincidences:

- 1) both have a father named Santos.
- 2) Both are from the Bronx.
- 3) Both are also from LA.
- 4) Both are mid-30s.
- 5) The Air Force one at LinkedIN claims to be unemployed since 2018, and we have seen that the Sarah Lawrence project ended in . . . 2018, when the reporters broke the story at New York Magazine. After that all prep was over and Santos would only need to make himself available for these brief interviews.

That's a lot of coincidences stacked, so my gut tells me we are looking at the same guy here, with the computer no longer aging the younger one 5.5 years ago when his project ended. He is an Air Force ghost or double, and so he “died” in 2018. So we can actually add that to our coincidences: These two Santos Rosarios are six years apart in age, the Air Force Santos has been unemployed for 5.5 years, and the Sarah Lawrence project ended 5.5 years ago. A sort of a triple coincidence, or turkey, all by itself.
