

Trotsky Faked his Death

by Miles Mathis

December 9, 2025

If you are wondering where I have been the past week, I have been writing two big papers on my science site. I am currently rewriting the Organic Chemistry college textbook, which is sort of a large enterprise, and as if that wasn't enough I am also ripping to shreds a graduate textbook on Quantum Field Theory. But I didn't want anyone to feel lonely over here on my art/history site, so I thought I would quickly hit this subject. I have already proved Trotsky (real name Lev Bronstein, Jewish) faked his life, so it shouldn't surprise anyone he faked his death as well.

The only exhibit I really need here is the photo above, alleged to be of Trotsky on his death bed. You have to laugh, because that looks nothing like Trotsky. It looks more like Raul Julia than Trotsky. Trotsky was skinny with a gray beard and mustache at that age. And that guy isn't dead anyway.

Any fool can tell the difference between those two guys, so this is just the usual Intelligence joke.

Trotsky was allegedly killed in Mexico City by Ramon Mercader with an ice axe, on the orders of Stalin. Except that Trotsky was just fellow actor, so Stalin had no reason to kill him. Of course Mercader was also Jewish, being the son of millionaire Spanish textile merchants—his mother being a del Rio Hernandez. He allegedly spent almost 20 years in jail, though that too was faked.

Mercader's mother Caridad was also a famous NKVD agent, and has her own Wiki page, where we find she was also the lover of famous French pilot Louis Delrieu and Maurice Thorez, general secretary of the French communist party in the 1930s.

Mercader was supposedly recruited by NKVD during the Spanish Civil War by the Soviets. Other attempts on Trotsky had been made recently, including one by Mexican artist Jose Alfaro Siqueiros, a muralist like Diego Rivera. He was really an Alfaro, but he took his mother's name because it was less obviously Jewish. His sister was named Luz, which means almond tree in Hebrew.

Again, you have to laugh. Do you really think that guy tried to murder Trotsky? Not only is he another wealthy Jew, the story is he went on the run from the law after the murder attempt, dressing as a peasant. He was captured after a few months, but they never took him to trial. He skated completely, as you do when you try to murder a world-famous person. Trotsky's grandson was allegedly shot in the attempt, but we can be sure that was fake as well.

But back to Mercader. He came out of the Sorbonne, where he was a protege of Mark Zborowski, yes, yet another Jew. This time they admit he was Jewish. Zborowski is sold to us as a NKVD mole into the Trotskyites, having been recruited by Alexander Adler. . . also Jewish. Are you seeing a pattern? Zborowski supposedly befriended the wife of Trotsky's son Lev Sedov. Sedov apparently didn't want to be a Bronstein or a Trotsky, so he took his mother's name. Since she was also the daughter of wealthy Jewish merchants, I am not sure what good that did.* But he could have named himself Chaim Cohen and most Gentiles wouldn't have figured it out. Anyway, Sedov's wife Jeanne Martin hired Zborowski to be Sedov's secretary, so these people were really not into background checks. We may assume Jeanne Martin was also Jewish hiding behind a fake name:

The murder of Trotsky by Mercader with the axe was dubbed Operation Duck by the Russians, and yes that is duck the bird. Operation Quack, in other words. And why would a secret Russian agent murder Trotsky with a climbing axe? This was done in his house, not on the slopes of Everest. Obviously just more inside jokes. My guess is it is because Trotsky had duck lips. Go study the old photos. The ice axe, I don't know. Probably just because it is the most absurd thing they could come up with. The story they still go with is that Mercader buried the adze side of the axe 7cm (3 inches) into Trotsky's brain through the top of his skull, but that Trotsky ignored it and tackled him, spitting on him and refusing to let his guards kill him. Did I mention that Trotsky was 60 and that Mercader was 37 and much larger?

According to James P. Cannon, then the national secretary of the American Socialist Workers Party, Trotsky's last words were "I will not survive this attack. Stalin has finally accomplished the task he attempted unsuccessfully before." [15]

Wow, that sounds like it was scripted by ChatGPT.

I shouldn't have to tell anyone why they would wish to fake the death of Trotsky in 1940. So I will let Wiki tell you instead:

In August 1936 the first Moscow show trial of the "Trotskyite–Zinovievite Terrorist Center" was staged. Zinoviev, Kamenev, and 14 other prominent Old Bolsheviks confessed to plotting with Trotsky to kill Stalin and other Soviet leaders. The court found all defendants guilty, sentencing them, including Trotsky in absentia, to death. The second show trial (Karl Radek, Grigori Sokolnikov, Yuri Pyatakov, and 14 others) in January 1937 linked more alleged conspiracies and crimes to Trotsky. These trials were widely seen as fabrications.

When historians call these show trials or fabrications, they want you to think they mean the trials were kangaroo courts with predetermined outcomes, but I have shown you they are tipping their hands to you: the trials were literally show trials or fabrications, in the sense that they were completely fake and staged. More than that, the entire Communist history back to Lenin and before was staged, to make you think the Communists were taking over Russia when it was really the industrialists. Like the Nazis later, the Bolsheviks were just actors, hired to hide the real people running the country behind the scenes. Just like now in the US and in every other country. These late-play squabbles between Stalin and Trotsky were just later scenes, scripted to make the whole thing look real. It was all mist, most of it happening only on paper. Fake news and fake history. But these actors eventually have to retire. They can't play these parts forever. They get old or get tired. Only actors like Chomsky can keep them up to the grave. So they fake their deaths. It is the only way a major actor like Trotsky could buy himself some peace in his old age.

A bonus nugget: they never tell us where Trotsky got the name Trotsky. One story is that he took it from his jailer in Odessa in 1902, but that is absurd. You don't name yourself after your jailer, obviously. But in my more recent papers on Brad Pitt, I finally saw a possible connection. I remind you that in 2023 I linked Pitt not only to William Pitt, Prime Minister of England, but to the Princes of Kiev. One of Pitt's hidden middle names is Vseslavovich. No really, I found that name in his Instantcheckmate profile, and I saved a screenshot in that paper. They were Princes of Kievan Rus back to the year 1068. In my paper on Stalin, we found Pitt is a dead ringer for one of Stalin's buds, Pavel Postyshev. You will say, so what? Well the so what is that Brad is a Trotter just a few generations back. I have pointed that out many times, since it links him to several people in Hollywood, proving he isn't the son of a truck driver from Kansas or whatever.

Do you see it now? Trotter=Trotsky. Trotsky must have been a Trotter in some line. Or the Trotters were previously Trotskys. So I decided to check that theory at thepeerage.com. To start with, I found a Sergi Trotzky in the peerage who married the Princess von Sachsen-Coburg in 1987, linking us directly to King Charles. LinkedIn lists him as a previous director at Rockwell. This Princess is also the daughter of a von Furstenberg. So that may help us understand Trotsky's links to England. And yes, Trotsky=Trotzky. It is just a variant spelling. As for the Trotters, they have been baronets back to 1821, closely related to the Dukes of Gordon. Through the Gordons they are closely related to the Hamiltons, Murrays, Leslie, Forbes, and Stanleys. Moving forward they quickly link to the Lindsays, Saviles, Keppels, Fitzroys, Rothschilds, and Stuarts, including the Stuarts of Fort Hunter, New York. We also find the Trotters, knights and lords of Mortonhall in Scotland. They are closely related to the Murrays as well, plus the Oswalds, Fishers and Berkeleys. The 7th of Mortonhall was linked to Russia back to 1763, since he died there—which is very helpful to the current question. Wikitree admits these are the right Trotters for Brad Pitt, since he goes back to James Trotter, who was a Ruthven, taking us to Campbell, Halyburton, Erskine, Keith, Douglas, Stewart, Kennedy, and Lindsay. The Stewart is Andrew Stewart, 1st of Ochiltree, taking us directly back to the Dukes of Albany. So, in a word, Ruthven changed his name to Trotter in about 1580 to hide the fact he was a Stewart in the royal line. From this research I would say it is probable that not only are Trotsky and Pitt cousins, but Trotsky was probably a Stewart in one line, explaining his preference in this vaudeville. Likely this was through his mother, whose name and lineage are faked. She is given as Anna Lvovna, but Wikitree says her name was Zhivotovskaya. Either way, the line is scrubbed, with no other information.
